Troutt begins 'rebirth; Personnel is evaluated

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

After being swept into office by a 334-vote margin, the new Mayor of Romulus, Terry L.

Troutt, says he is developing his 10-point plan for the "rebirth of Romulus." Troutt said he will push "those programs announced during the primary and general election campaign," and is evaluating the personnel at city hall to develop a sound working administrative body to get the city moving. Troutt defeated incumbent Hyle J. Carmichael last week. "I MADE A commitment, and I intend to keep it, with the support of the people," Troutt said. "I'm grateful the people of the city chose me to help this community move ahead for the next two years, and hope I don't betray them.

"I'm also grateful for the support given me by workers from throughout the community. Without them I never would have made it."

Troutt, township supervisor in the community from 1955 to 1963, said his most immediate duty will be "to develop a sound working administration" for the next two years.

"We're going to be evaluating the personnel now running administrative departments and will be making decisions during the next few weeks," he said. "I'm not saying anyone's getting fired, or we'll be changing things around drastically. But I do believe we need a sound working administrative body to get this city moving."

TROUTT WOULD not indicate whether he will be bringing back two administrators fired during the campaign for their support of his candidacy.

The director of the department of public works, William Pritula, and the director of the building department, Clayton W. Meldrum, both submitted resignations from their jobs several weeks ago.

"They'll certainly be considered," Troutt said. "But I made no promises to anyone about who will be hired."

Another candidate for an administrative post, Gary Bingamen, defeated clerk candidate in the Nov. 6 election, also will be considered, Troutt said.

"I RAN WITH Gary, and know he's a brilliant young man," the mayor added. "He'd be a sound addition to the administration, but I'm making no definite commitments right now."

Troutt said his most definite commitments are toward the 10-point program announced early last summer.

He said the two most important points on that program are recreation and road maintenance.

"We'll get started on both those programs right away," he said. "I promised more city parks for the residents of Romulus, and intend to keep that promise."

"I INTEND to get together a program for regular maintenance and upgrading of roads in the city through the same method used by the state."

The other points in the Ten officials sworn-in, but vote recount eyed

BY MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

While Romulus' 10 newly elected officials were being sworn into office in Monday's "red carpet" inauguration, the machinery for a recount in the council race was being greased.

The recount is aimed at the seventh-place finish of the incumbent, Councilman Fred Junior Block, who took the last qualifying council slot with 2,151 votes.

Just a breath away with five less votes was Robert H. Martin, with 2,146—and only 10 votes further down the line was candidate Richard Butz with 2,141.

CITY CLERK Leonard Folmar said the recount will be handled by Wayne County election officials—and should be finalized by next week.

In the meantime, Block took his oath of office to serve another council term—pending the outcome of the recount.

Block ran on the slate of the losing incumbent mayor, Hyle Carmichael, while Martin and Butz were members of the slate headed by Terry Troutt, who was successful in the unseating of Carmichael in last Tuesday's election.

IN HIS address to a standing room only inaugural audience, Troutt repeated a campaign pledge to "bring the people and Romulus government together."

THE FORMER township supervisor, admitting he was "a bit nervous," said "Many new changes are needed in city hall. We need the most efficient and reasonable people to help rebuild our city."

Troutt also vowed to "do everything in my power to lead our city out of its backward state and to provide the kind of programs we need."

The new mayor stresses that "there will be no dragging of the feet in this new administration because the city must make up for a lot of lost time."

In reaching back to his campaign promises, Troutt repeated: "Recreation and road paving will be our two priority items on the business agenda. We also must seek new avenues to attract industry and business to Romulus to improve upon our existing tax base."

TROUTT SUGGESTED that the implementation of a master city plan, coupled with "acquiring a city planner and

Readying for possible tragedy, Huron simulates plane crash

A simulated airplane crash was staged in Huron Township to test the area's emergency facilities.

Police, fire and emergency units from surrounding communities participated in the simulated crash in a field on Huron River Drive.

The event Thursday attracted many spectators and police had to detour hundreds of motorists. Special emergency routes were set up for ambulances carrying "victims." The township hall, 7290 Huron River Dr., New Boston, was used as a "hospital."

The downed plane actually was an old school bus and truck with wings attached and the passengers were 28 Huron High School students. Police set the mock plane afire about 5 p.m. and used smoke bombs to make the scene more authentic, a police spokesman said.

Participating in the simulated disaster program were: the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Michigan State Police, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Police, Michigan Bell Telephone Company, Detroit Edison Company and police and fire units from Romulus, Carleton and the townships of Sumpter, Brownstown and Ash with Van Buren Township equipment on stand-by.

Huron Township Supervisor

George Moore, initiator of the emergency program, said that the project had been worked out on paper, but added that the program's real success would not be known until all reports from the emergency units had been completed and reviewed.

Moore said the program was prompted by a recent plane accident in Inkster which claimed eight lives. Huron Township located west of Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, has had three plane crashes in three years, Moore said.

Record meeting is held

By DALE GOWING
Roman Staff Writer

The election of a council chairwoman pro-tem and the appointment of a new city planning commissioner topped off a record 19-minute session of the Romulus City Council Monday night, in the "inaugural" meeting of the newly-elected council.

Councilwoman Joan A. Lee unanimously was elected chairwoman pro-tem, to serve in any absence of Chairwoman Beverly McAnally.

Councilman Jack H. Trumble was appointed to fill the planning commission seat left vacant by Edward Bizak, removed from the council in the primary election. The city charter requires a council member to serve on the commission, along with the new Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

THE COMMISSION will meet on Monday. New Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar and Romulus Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz assumed their new duties in the initial session with the council.

In other business, the council voted to retain the city's general funds in the Manufacturers Bank of Romulus, authorized Lewkowicz to conduct an inventory of all city assets and established a "Department for Responsive Government."

The new department, as defined by Mrs. McAnally, would function "as a liaison between the public and the affairs of city government, to satisfy the campaign promises of city government candidates."

A SUM OF $5,000 was authorized temporarily to be transferred to the department from the city's allocated funds.

Newly appointed manager has extensive experience

A Western Wayne County resident with an extensive background in newspaper advertising and management, today was named general manager of The Romulus Roman and its two affiliated Panax Newspapers — The Belleville Enterprise and The Daily Eagle.

He is John Tarrant, 42. Tarrant is married and the father of two daughters attending school in the Wayne-Westland district. He is a 1957 graduate of Michigan State University.

In announcing Tarrant's appointment, Ralph Kaziatek, regional general manager for Panax Newspapers, said: "Mr. Tarrant's residency in the circulation area of our Associated Newspaper Group will serve as an asset in fostering an increased community relationship between our newspapers and the communities we serve."

TARRANT, of 37027 Vincent, has been a Westland resident since 1960. He and his wife, Mary Lou, are the parents of Patricia and Jacqueline.

Prior to joining Associated Newspapers, Tarrant served as a newspaper representative for the advertising firm of Cresmer, Woodward, O'Mara and Ormsbee, Inc. He also served as general advertising manager at The Pontiac Press, and as a retail advertising sales representative with the Grand Rapids Herald.

In addition, Tarrant's newspaper experience includes editorial background gained while serving on the advertising-editorial staffs of the St. Louis, Mich., Leader-Press, Wyandotte Tribune and Wyandotte-Herald.

BORN AND RAISED in Saginaw, Tarrant served for three years with the U.S. Army during the Korean War. Most of his wartime service with the Army was as a paratrooper with the 11th Airborne Division.

He left active duty with a lieutenant's rank, and later was elevated to captain with the Army Reserves.

Tarrant succeeds Robert Knoke, who recently resigned from the general manager's post. Knoke resides in Madison Heights in Oakland County.

Romulus High senior vies for 'Miss Teen-age' title

A 16-year-old Romulus High School senior is hoping for a special birthday. Adelle Austin will be competing for the title of "Miss Teen-age America" on Nov. 24—her 17th birthday.

Winning the title in the pageant sponsored by Dr. Pepper soft drinks, Cedar Point of Ohio and the World Book Encyclopedia, means Adelle will get a $10,000 scholarship.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Austin, 34184 Ecorse Rd., Adelle entered the pageant "after watching it for years each November, and wondering what it's like."

"I USED to watch it all the time, and thought of how awful some of the girls looked on the television, until I realized I didn't enter because I was afraid," she said. "I realized the winner represents the ideal teen-ager in America, so I decided that I'd try."

Miss Austin submitted a letter of application to the pageant last year to compete as a "member-at-large" in the nation-wide competition.

She was one of five candidates selected for the "member-at-large" section of the 45-girl pageant following a screening process of 150 semi-finalists in the "member-at-large" application process.

The girls were selected for their scholastic averages, participation in community affairs, and their appearance.

THE FINAL competition in the pageant will take place in Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 17 through 24.

During her previous three years in high school, Adelle has maintained an "A-minus" grade point average.

During that time she has found time to be a member of the Girl Scouts, an organization she joined 11-years ago; the Future Homemakers of America; the school's drama club, and has earned a spot in the National Honor Society.

The president of this year's senior class at Romulus High, Adelle has been editor of the school newspaper; presently writes for the newspaper; is president of the Child and Youth Usher Board at her church, the Romulus First Baptist Church, and is president of the church's youth fellowship.

SHE IS a past president of the Science and Ecology Club at school, and has acted in six plays during her three-year membership in the Romulus Drama Club.

The pageant is designed to show teenagers across the nation that it is not only constructive, but also fun to become involved in school, church and community activities.

If she wins the pageant, Adelle already has determined she would spend the scholarship money in one of three Michigan universities.

The pageant will be aired at 9 p.m. Nov. 24 on television

Chief Koch in Romulus suggests automobile tune-up

With the current emphasis on fuel conservation, engine tune-ups have become of major concern to American motorists, making the annual winter tune-up more important than ever before. "At this time of year, the best way to winterize your car is to take it to a reputable service station with instructions to take care of everything — no matter how insignificant it may seem — that has anything to do with keeping your car running and moving in cold weather," Romulus-Police Chief Jacob J. Koch said.

Instead of a casual winter grease job and oil change, a complete engine tune-up, and an inspection from fan belt to tailpipe, is in order, according to Koch.

"SOME NEW drivers — even some of the older ones — don't seem to realize this," he added.

"And don't forget, the sweetest-running engine in town can't move you far if your wheels are spinning on snow or ice because the tread has disappeared from old tires," he said. "Or you haven't had the foresight to install snow tires or studded tires."

Belleville High calls open house 'successful'

The annual open house held at Belleville High School was a "tremendous success" both in school staff participation and parent-student attendance, a school spokesman said.

More than 600 attended the open house held at the high school last Wednesday.

In addition to meeting various members of the teaching staff and executive personnel at the high school, the parents toured the school's facilities and explanation of educational programs and services available at the high school was given.

Belleville High School Principal John F. Ford said he and his staff were quite pleased with the "enthusiasm" shown by all who participated in making the open house a tremendous success.

School contracts OK'd

Contracts for the 1973-74 school year for custodial, maintenance and cafeteria employees were approved Monday night by the Van Buren Board of Education.

The contracts call for salary increases of four per cent over the hourly rates of the 1972-73 contract, Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz said.

The 59 custodial-maintenance employees also will receive all the fringe benefits that members of the teaching staff will receive upon settlement of their contract dispute.

They also were given one day off to take any family member to the doctor and two days off annually to conduct personal business.

The hourly rate of custodial-maintenance workers last year ranged from $3.50 per hour to $5.18 per hour.

The cafeteria employees' agreement allows two paid holidays a year and a $25 uniform allowance.

The hourly rate last year for cafeteria workers ranged from $2.45 per hour to $3.11 per hour. Head cooks received $3.61 per hour.

The cafeteria workers will get two paid holidays and $25 uniform allowance.

In other business, the school board approved an administration request to participate in the Garden City School District's program for pregnant girls. Supt. Kaulitz told the board that the Garden

City program is an alternate program and adequate to meet the needs of the Van Buren School District.

They are 12 pregnant school girls in the district at the present time, he said. The Garden City program will permit them to complete their education.

The board also: —approved the addition of four persons to the maintenance personnel of the district;

—granted request of Sumpter Elementary School's sixth grade teachers and pupils to spend a week in May at the Wolverine Outdoor Educational center;

—approved a curriculum release day to be held today;

—approved a North Junior High School ninth grade history students' request for a one-day tour of Washington, D.C.

—tabled for further study a resolution to grant the right-of-way requests of the Detroit Edison Company and Michigan Bell Telephone Company at the building trades program site.

a bachelor of arts degree from Gettysburg College in 1966.

He served as an intelligence and administrative officer in the U.S. Air Force from 1967-71 then enrolled in the School of Natural Resources of the University of Michigan where he received his master of science degree in natural resource planning and conservation in August, 1973.

Jansson said: "We can no longer follow the biblical injunction to be fruitful, multiply and subdue the earth."

Since "water quality diminishes as modern civilization advances, we can no longer allow our definition of progress to include unregulated consumption of our resources."

With this in mind, Jansson views the Michigan Natural Rivers Program, which has listed the Huron River for potential protection, as an unequalled opportunity for local communities to work together toward natural rivers designation for parts of the Huron River, and eventual watershed-wide river management.

"The watershed council is spearheading efforts to coordinate the state natural rivers program for portions of the Huron," he said. "I urge all local units of governments, interested groups and citizens to petition the department of natural resources for a task-force study of the river to be followed by natural rivers designation."

The fact finder selected to investigate school district finances will not issue a binding order, but make suggestions as to solving the dispute or what steps should be taken in further negotiations.

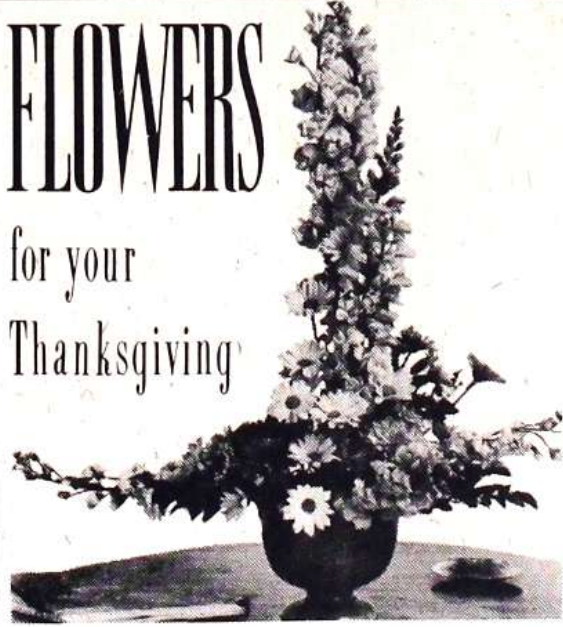

Houston said the teachers were disappointed with the court order of fact-finding because it is not binding.

CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS broke down in September. The teachers subsequently voted to "withhold their services."

The strike that followed on Sept. 12 suspended classes which were resumed 12 days later when Canham issued an injunction against the strike. The court has retained jurisdiction of the dispute pending final settlement.

Voters find ways to retaliate

A warning to salary-hungry politicians

By BOB BERG
Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Voters around the country in the off year elections seemed to be saying they don't trust their politicians all that much, but they aren't ready to completely tie the hands of the lawmakers.

The most overwhelming vote came in Washington, where 80 per cent of those voting rejected a 193 per cent pay hike legislators had given themselves by raising their pay from $3,600 to $10,000 a year.

IT WAS THE RESULT of one of those rare truly grass roots movements which saw a Seattle furniture store salesman spark a drive which gathered 700,000 signatures to put the proposal on the ballot. And it ought to cause Michigan lawmakers, who are still griping about the fact their $17,000 paychecks weren't raised last year, to stop and think.

In Rhode Island voters also rejected a proposal

'We don't think a hell of a lot of some of the things you have been doing recently.'

to raise legislative salaries and to give the governor a four year term.

But in California voters rejected a proposal which would have put a constitutional ceiling on state spending, tying the legislature's hands.

MUCH HAS BEEN said and written in recent months about the growing public distrust of political figures and institutions. Yet when it came right down to it, California voters have said they don't distrust the politicians enough to take away their power to decide the fundamental question of how much to spend.

The states involved are far enough apart that there may be no real thread running through the elections. But if there is a thread, it may run something like this:

"We elect you people to go to Lansing or Spokane or Sacramento to make our laws, oversee state services and spend our taxes. We don't think a hell of a lot of some of the things you have been doing recently. But we haven't given up on you yet, either. What we want to see is you doing more with the salary and term of office you already have before you start rewarding you with higher pay or longer terms. We haven't given up to the point that we're going to lock in a rigid spending limit with no way of knowing what future events will be."

There was some of the same sentiment in Michigan last year when voters turned down the property tax relief proposals on the state ballot. POLITICIANS like to avoid the hard decisions on the whole and one way of doing that is to refer an issue to a ballot. But when you pay someone to do a job, you expect that person to do the job. One of the things the Legislature is paid to do is figure out the way schools will be financed. And the Legislature finally came up with a compromise plan under the prodding of the governor this year.

There are quite a few issues lying around the legislature now in Lansing, including campaign reform, lobbyist control, conflict of interest legislation, land use, judicial reform, repeal of the sales tax for food and consumer protection. If the lawmakers want a raise next year, they might be wise to get some work done on these and other items in the coming months.

As we see it...

Ron Suemnick needs no honors, salutes

Whether this newspaper's editorials had any bearing on a court decision that allowed Huron High's Ron Suemnick to play in his team's football finale last Friday is a moot question at this juncture.

Ron's handicap amounts to wearing an artificial left leg—a handicap for most, but not for this courageous New Boston senior.

All along we said Ron deserved equal rights—and that to deny the youngster his right to play varsity football would set rehabilitation hopes back one hundred years.

Then came last Thursday's decision from Federal District Judge Lawrence Gubow: "Ron Suemnick has overcome his handicap to become a fine example to other young people."

And with that decision, Ron was able to dress for his team's final football game of the year—and his prep career.

With Judge Gubow's ruling, we now urge the Michigan High School Athletic Association to reassess the national pre ruling which prohibits the wearing of artificial limbs by high school athletes.

When the season started, no one questioned Ron's ability to perform—or the hazard from wearing an artificial leg—to himself or others.

After six games, a referee noticed the boy dragging his left leg after a pile-up on the line against Tecumseh. Ron was forced to sit out the next game. But a successful court restraining order the following week got him back into action.

At Thursday's hearing, Judge Gubow stood up for Ron Suemnick and hundreds of other courageous youths who have overcome handicaps—except in the eyes of those who consider themselves "normal physical beings."

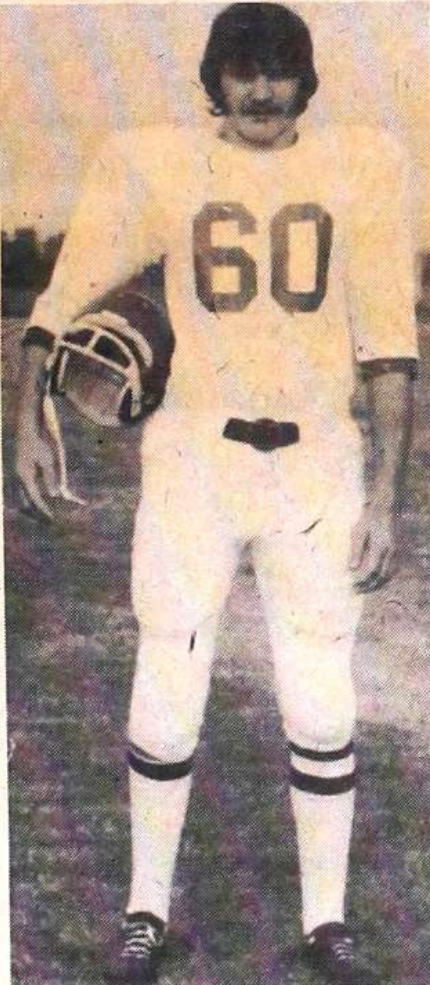

While Ron's team took its share of gridiron beatings this year; Huron's athletic staff, the faculty and student body were victors in another sense—they gave Ron a chance to overcome his handicap.

Ron lost the leg in a farm-tractor accident two years ago—and recovered through rehabilitation to play his favorite sport.

When we reported Ron's dilemma after the Tecumseh game, the incident was picked up by the Associated Press and beamed to newspapers across the country.

Since then hundreds of letters of support have been received. Many of them from handicapped boys and girls who said: "I cried when they benched Ron, but when the judge allowed him to finish the season—it gave me the faith I needed to overcome my handicap."

As we said last week, Ron won't win any medals for his football playing. He doesn't need them.

Nixon crisis shows up in home mail

Ruppe's district is restless

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Communications received by Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., from his constituents in the 11th congressional district show that 90 per cent of them have given up on President Nixon and feel Nixon should either resign or be impeached.

Ruppe's office has received over 700 telegrams and letters on the subject. The overwhelming anti-Nixon tone of the writers does not, of course, represent an exact picture of the division of public opinion in Northern Michigan.

On any issue only the most aroused take the trouble to write. Even discounting that fact, however, it undoubtedly is safe to say that at least half of the voters in Ruppe's district are fed up with the Watergate horrors, the cover-ups and the cover-ups of the cover-ups and feel the nation must have a new leader.

OTHER CONGRESSMEN, from Michigan and elsewhere, have reported similar readings from their constituents. Some feel the anti-administration reaction is without precedent. The tide against the President, on the evidence of the letters and telegrams received in many offices, is flowing even stronger than in May, 1970 at the time of the Cambodian invasion.

In a national sense, observers said, the reaction from Ruppe's district is particularly important. According to the White House staff the storms repeatedly beating at the President's position trace back to some ill-defined plot by the big national networks and newspapers in the Boston-New York-Washington corridor to "Get Nixon."

According to this theory, the smarty-pants big media representatives and their bosses have been playing this game of "tear down the president" since Nixon took office almost five years ago.

REPEATED DENIALS from media spokesmen have not shaken the White House. Richard C. Wald, president of NBC news, has said the administration is making a grave mistake in clinging to this line. The White House, he explained, "seems to have confused the messenger with the message." In any event, Ruppe's district is a long way from the eastern media establishment world.

One of Ruppe's aides said: "The letters and telegrams the congressman is receiving seem to be written from the heart."

'The letters and telegrams the congressman is receiving seem to be written from the heart.'

They show a strong emotional reaction to the shocks which have rocked this administration in recent months.

"The vast majority of these communications would appear to be spontaneous. Only here and there are indications that some of the letters may have been generated by people in the old Vietnam peace movement."

RUPPE HAS A DISTRICT with the largest geographic spread east of the Mississippi. It includes all of the Upper Peninsula and a large number of counties in the upper end of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

Ruppe plans visits to the district during a couple of weekends this month. Ordinarily such calls on the home folks would be the sort of thing all congressmen do. This time, however, aides said the congressman was particularly anxious to get a further reading on the feelings of his constituents.

Ruppe was one of 13 congressmen co-sponsoring legislation to require senate confirmation of the new special Watergate prosecutor to succeed Archibald Cox, whom President Nixon discharged.

Under provisions of this bill the President would choose a new special prosecutor from among names on a list submitted by the nation's five leading legal organizations.

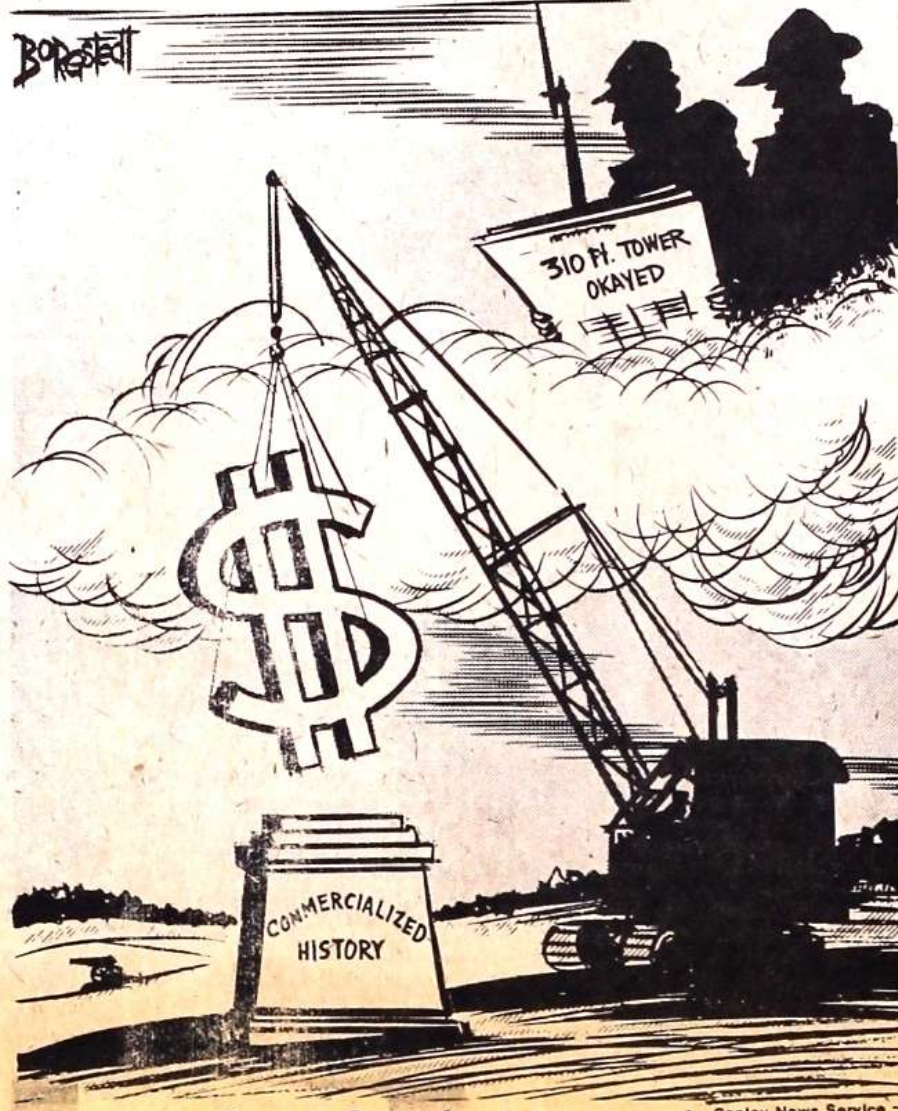

"The process of senate confirmation," Ruppe said, "would help assure the public that the investigation of the Watergate affair would proceed on a vigorous and impartial basis."

THE PRESIDENT ALREADY has approved the appointment of Leon Jaworski, a Texas Democrat, to be Watergate special prosecutor. This appointment did nothing, however, to lessen congressional demands for legislation making the prosecutor independent of the President.

As things stand Jaworski is not subject to senate confirmation. In a letter to the White House signed by Ruppe and the 12 other congressmen, Nixon was told it would be wise for him to voluntarily submit the name of a new special prosecutor to the Senate for confirmation.

If this is not done, the letter said, there would be a nearly irresistible movement in Congress "for a legislatively created special prosecutor divorced from the executive branch." That would be bad news for Nixon.

The signers of the letter included Rep. Garry E. Brown, R-Mich.

Kohoutek is coming

Comet of the century may become 'visible'

By the end of this month, days will be just nine hours and 20 minutes long, but those longer nights will allow more time for viewing what may be "the comet of the century," according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

"Discovered Feb. 28 while it was still a tremendous distance away from earth, the Kohoutek comet may become visible to the naked eye by the end of November," Prof. Losh says, adding that the comet will definitely become visible during December. The comet, which is named after its discoverer, Czechoslovakian astronomer Lubos Kohoutek, will first appear in the morning.

"It will rise shortly before the sun on the low southeastern horizon," Prof. Losh explains. She predicts that the best time for viewing the comet will probably be from January 10th to the 20th. By this time it will be an evening comet visible in the southwestern sky after the sun has set," she notes.

"BY THE MIDDLE OF January the comet will be closest to earth, roughly 75 million miles away," she continues. "Late observations show that it is maintaining its earlier computed orbit and is brightening up, but perhaps not to the extent hoped for." She says it remains to be seen whether Kohoutek will surpass the brilliant Halley's comet, which is expected to make a return trip around 1985, and thus live up to its billing as "comet of the century."

"Because of the incredible vastness of space, the light we see coming from this great nebula is actually 1,600 years old, having left that spot around 400 A.D.," she points out.

Venus continues as the bright "evening star" rising low on the southwestern horizon about three hours after sunset. Around sunset the planet Jupiter shows up in the south, shining brightly until it sets around midnight. Rising in the east at sunset is the red planet Mars and, in the northeast, Saturn.

Times 'tales' A horse stalked the city room

By MITCH KEHETIAN, Enterprise-Roman Editor

I went to an unusual reunion last Friday night...and I'll go to the reunions as long as someone remembers the old Detroit Times.

For the younger set, the old Hearst newspaper died at 3 a.m. Monday, Nov. 7, 1960 — one day before the election of John F. Kennedy as president. The Times endorsed Richard M. Nixon...a sign of the times.

Since the death of "Michigan's Best Family Newspaper," ex-Times Square employees meet each year on a Friday close to that day when the presses were still at the pride of the then crumbling Hearst Empire.

THIS YEAR'S mourning anniversary was no different. In the early hours ex-Times staffers were cheerful, and asked questions about each other's family and "how's the new job...?"

But by the midnight hour, elbows on the Press Club bar — we all admitted that each of us died a little that dark day 13 years ago.

Two years ago the present landlords of the old Times plant allowed "reunion celebrants" to visit the sixth floor city room...and it reopened the scars of the past.

THE DESKS WERE GONE, the floors were covered with scum, the painted walls were peeling, and the clocks were disconnected.

But at Friday's party we tried to recall some of the famed Times tales, some which I witnessed and can testify to be the truth. Honest.

I still remember that day when Dave Karp, a circulation driver brought his horse up to the city room—via the freight elevator.

ONE OF THE SMART guys on the reporting side told Karp: "Put on a cowboy uniform. Bring your horse up to the city room and you'll make the front page."

Karp did and it almost cost the staffer his job...and that of rewriter Ted Peck. Ted was taking a news call from a Grosse Pointe socialite when the horse nearly nudged him off his chair. At that moment, Ted asked the Grosse Pointe caller to speak up because "there's a horse looking over my shoulder."

With that remark, the woman slammed the phone down and called Times Editor John C. Manning, also a Grosse Pointe resident...and neighbor of the irritated socialite.

WELL, YOU KNOW what happened. Manning stormed into the city room to fire the drunk reporter who was mulling about a horse in the city room. He retreated to the front office when he spotted Karp perched atop his horse...and droppings on the polished city room floor.

Then there was the time several unmentionable copy desk editors called an ailing assistant city editor...not to cheer him up, but to offer the ill deskman a chance to enter the "chance of the year."

The "chance of the year" was to take part in a drawing on the time and date the ailing desk editor would leave the good earth. Editor Manning got another call...this time from a fuming deskman.

OR THE STORY of a certain telegraph editor who had the habit of sleeping through most of the night, causing the news desk to scamper Jo meet the morning "Green Zephyr" deadline. One night someone decided to give the "crafty" telegraph editor a hot foot. Needless to say the copy desk caught fire and Editor Manning got another call.

And finally, the night one of our absentee social drinking assistant city editors decided to return to work — and for a good show he brought along a young stripper from the Avenue Burlesque to dance — and strip — on the city desk.

The brass assistant editor got five more days, without pay, to sober up...by order of Editor Manning.

Though the antics of that grand staff displeased our poor editor at the Times...when it came to news reporting and writing — the "friendly" and "old gray lady" journals on West Lafayette always ran second and third.

MY ONLY BRUSH with the desk came when I was marooned on a grounded Greek liner in the Detroit River — and not a phone in sight to call the desk.

Three hours later the ship's captain said: "Hey Mr. Mitch — I have a call for you from a Mr. Jim Trainor."

My city editor had some choice words that afternoon. "Didn't you ever hear of ship-to-shore telephones," he barked.

And I meekly responded: "How am I supposed to know a Greek ship would have a telephone?"

The following week I worked the midnight shift! In all, Friday's reunion was good for the heart and for old times sake.

Koch urges residents to winterize automobile

"So often in this part of the country, the first hard winter storm hits during Thanksgiving when so many people are making out-of-town trips," said Romulus Police Chief Jacob Koch.

"For this reason," he added, "I am again urging all motorists to get their cars ready for winter driving conditions before starting out on a Thanksgiving drive."

"Be prepared for the worst that winter may have to offer." Specifically, the chief suggested the following tips for getting prepared and for safer driving:

—Correct immediately all vehicle defects that can cause trouble or concern during slippery going.

—USE A BRUSH and scraper to clear all windows as well as headlights, tail-lights and directional signals.

—Pump brakes when slowing or stopping to prevent wheel locking and skidding.

—Equip your car with snow tires.

—Allow considerably more distance between cars in traffic.

—BE SURE YOUR winterizing checklist includes lights, battery, heater, defroster, seat belts, windshield wipers, brakes, tires and tire chains.

—Check weather reports and adjust driving schedules to allow for reduced speed on slippery roads.

"And for Thanksgiving's sake, check the weather and road reports before starting out. The weather bureau, state police or local motor club usually can give you this information," he said.

Funeral services held for Belleville woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Carole Ann McAlister, 26, who was fatally injured in a two-car crash were held Saturday at Roberts Bros. Funeral Inc. Home in Belleville.

Rev. William Cram, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church of Belleville, officiated at the services. Burial was in Romulus Cemetery.

Mrs. McAlister is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Burke; a daughter, Melisa, and a sister, Mrs. Cindy Brown, all of Belleville.

Troopers from the Ypsilanti Post of the Michigan State Police said that Mrs. McAlister was driving her car northbound on Hewitt Road near Midvale Road in Ypsilanti, when she lost control of her car on a slight downhill curve.

The McAlister car skidded out of control for more than 100 feet into the southbound lane where it collided with a car being driven by Robert K. Murphy, 35, of 2363 Harding Ave., Ypsilanti.

Both Harding and his wife, Mary, also 35, were taken to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

After striking the Murphy car, Mrs. McAlister travelled another 150 feet before crashing into a tree and a parked car in a private drive at 279 Hewitt Dr., police said.

Manufacturers names new officer-in-charge

An Allen Park man has been named officer-in-charge of the Manufacturers Bank Office at Huron River Drive and Northline in Romulus. He is Neil W. Reid.

Reid comes from one of the bank's Dearborn offices and brings with him 27 years of banking experience.

A graduate of the American Institute of Banking, Reid was named an officer of the bank in 1965. He is a past treasurer of the Northwest Detroit Lions Club and a member and past treasurer and director of the Downriver Association for Retarded Children.

Class stages 5 plays

Mrs. Faye Van Wert's sixth grade class at West Willow Elementary school recently presented some plays.

The plays were chosen and enacted entirely by the troupe and three of the plays were written by the girls in the class. Complete with stage, backgrounds (designed by the students), lights and spooky music, the plays were presented twice on Halloween and again to the West Willow PTA meeting Nov. 5.

Entitled "What Happens to Scarecrows," "The Child's Mistake," "Red is Nice,"

"Dracula's Castle" and "The Night of Halloween," the plays included the reassurance that life for two scarecrows goes on beyond Halloween, a gruesome attack by a witch and a ghost upon a defenseless child, a red paint job that doesn't seem to end, a palm reading session by an old woman, who prescribes lethal whipped cream pies to her customers, and a hilarious scene where everyone in Dracula's castle succumbs to a pie in the eye, and a party by the Peanuts gang, joined by Snoopy and his mischievous antics.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

In a group discussion not too long ago, it was asked why people curse in conversation. It was noted with amazement that some cursers are successful, brilliant men, capable of good speech. Cussing is a habit one acquires to add impact to words. Those who lace language with profanity do it because they fear normal expression lacks strength to put a point across. There is no question that the cussing habit can be broken.

One man in the group told an interesting story. He related how, years ago, his three year old boy stumbled and stubbed his toe.

The child let out with an explosive barrage of cussing which shocked his mother and dad. Before they could say anything, the child slyly sensed their shock. In the quick of a wink, he changed from sinner to saint and started to sing, "Jesus loves me, this I know, for the Bible tells me so." The fellow told how he and his wife, while shocked, had to inwardly chuckle over the surprisingly quick transition of the little rascal. Since habits are mostly formed by association or example, especially with impressionable youngsters, both parents decided then and there to never use even mild profanity ever again.

The son is now a grown man. He is a fine person and an interesting conversationalist. His parents are too...

MISS JOHNSON

Belleville graduates engaged

Belleville High School graduates, Janice Johnson and Shawn T. Byrnes, are engaged. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Naomi Johnson of 41635 Van Born Road, Belleville, and James R. Johnson of 19144 Schoolcraft, Detroit. A member of Belleville's class of '73, she is currently employed at Belleville Shell.

The prospective bridegroom, who resides at 512 Washtenaw, Ypsilanti, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry J. Byrnes of 14379 Elwell Road, Belleville. He was graduated in 1972 and is presently attending Eastern Michigan University while employed at Zantop International Air Lines.

As yet, no date has been set for the wedding.

At St. Mary's

Larder-Rakoczy vows exchanged

Double ring vows were exchanged October 20 between Kathleen Rakoczy of Romulus and John Larder of Charlotte. The three o'clock ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne was read by the Rev. John Buehner before some 50 assembled guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rakoczy of 17193 Middlebelt Road, Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Larder of 1425 Five Point Highway, Charlotte, are parents of the young couple.

'Author' tea to be at library

The Huron Valley Garden Club will hold a tea at the Fred Fischer Public Library Saturday, November 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. honoring Mrs. Edith Steiger Phillips, author of the new book, 'My World War II Diary.'

Mrs. Phillips spent the war years with the Red Cross and served in London, during the blitz. The account of her experiences, written in the language of the time, gives a first-hand account of the supreme effort and great hardships the American soldiers shared with the British and other Allies in holding back the German invasion. Wit and humor add much to the account. The book brings a new appreciation of the American contribution to the final victory.

Mrs. Phillips has been a resident of Belleville for more than 20 years and at the present time is an instructor in marketing at Eastern Michigan University. She pilots her own plane and has competed in the Powder-Puff Derby.

The public is cordially invited to attend the tea and meet the author.

Identically dressed, the four attendants walked up the aisle in toe-touching frocks fashioned with Juliet sapphire blue velvet bodices and pale blue skirts. Their bouquets were comprised of blue-tipped white roses.

Also donning a full-length sapphire blue gown with a white lace overlay was the flowergirl, Bobbie Rakoczy, niece of the bride and daughter of the Paul Rakoczys of Carleton. The basket she carried was filled with blue roses.

STEVE PIERSON of East Lansing carried out the duties of best man with Keith Tirrell of Charlotte; Jeff Lewis of East Lansing and Joe Edick of Charlotte serving as ushers.

The Polish Legion of American Veterans Hall in Westland was reserved for the reception which followed. The bride's mother greeted guests in a red-orange formal gown banded in gold braid. Her corsage of white carnations was tipped in matching red. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Larder chose an aqua gown with a jewel neckline to which she added her blue-tipped carnation corsage.

The Davis boys can now be counted a threesome since there's a third boy in the Richard L. Davis family of 43030 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville. 'Christopher Paul' put in his initial appearance November 5 at Beyer Memorial Hospital, his weight being recorded at 7 lbs., 3 oz.

Looking in on him these late autumn days are his brothers, Matthew, three, and Stephen, one.

Their mother is the former Sharon Ihlenfeldt, daughter of the Don Ihlenfeldts of Belleville. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Davis, reside in McCloud, California.

On leaving for their week-long honeymoon in Toronto, the new Mrs. Larder changed to a tailored green pantsuit with her corsage of white orchids pinned at the shoulder. On their return the newlyweds took up residence at 1440 Five Point Highway, Charlotte.

Kathleen graduated from St. Mary's High School in Wayne and attended Michigan State University for two years. Prior to her marriage she worked for Host International at Metro Airport.

Her husband graduated from Charlotte High School and the Institute of Agricultural Technology at Michigan State University. He is now self-employed.

The evening before the wedding, the Thomas Larders and Mrs. Mabel Marple, grandmother of the bridegroom, entertained at the rehearsal dinner at the Sweden House on Telegraph Road.

Holiday bride-elect honored at shower

KAE WENZEL, who has chosen the Christmas season for her wedding to Jay Hartford, was the honored guest Friday evening, November 2, at a miscellaneous bridal shower. Co-hostesses for the party were Mrs. Julia Stamper of Belleville and Mrs. Carol Hartford of Plymouth. The Canton Township Hall was decorated in the red and green color scheme of the pending wedding with the wedding party of eight captured in miniature doll cakes for the buffet centerpiece. Mrs. Stamper made and decorated the grouping.

About 60 relatives and friends arrived from Manchester, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Wayne, Westland and Northville and enjoyed playing games appropriate to the occasion.

Guests from Belleville included Dana Stamper, Nancy Osak and daughter Robin, Darlene Domen and daughter Marcia, Iretta Hartford, Margaret Simkiss, Irene Pyle, Gertrude Bohms, and Lee Bernhardt.

Still others were Joyce Rochowiak, Ruth Gustin, Debbie Meyer, Lottie Ostrowski, Jeanette Frost, June Barry, Margaret Agge and daughter Teri, Karen Russell, Carol Johnson, Cheryl Agge, Amy Wilkins, and Ruth Neuhart.

A buffet dinner was followed by the bride-to-be opening her many household gifts with assistance from Margaret Jane Walters who's to be honor attendant at the wedding. Kae and her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Orville Hartford of Belleville, were presented with corsages in honor of the event.

Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Ypsilanti has been reserved for the December nuptials.

Kosins enjoy week in Switzerland

SWITZERLAND'S CLEANLINESS, beauty and neatness are what impressed the Kosins (Mary and Chet of Elwell Road) most as they look back on their recent trip abroad. Winging their way, non-stop, to Zurich in eight and a half hours, the Kosins were among the 160 taking the charter flight sponsored by Champion Spark Plugs on October 27th.

With the Nova Park Hotel in Zurich as their headquarters, the group was taken via bus to the Alsace wine country in France where they enjoyed a wine-tasting session in the quaint, walled-in village of Riquewihir. They also traveled to Lucerne, the capitol city of Bern and the Interlaken resort area.

The high point of their trip was working their way 10,000 feet to the top of Schilthorn Mountain via cable car. On arriving at the summit, they stopped at the round, revolving restaurant which was built especially for the James Bond movie, 'On her Majesty's Secret Service.'

They also viewed Zurich via tram by day and at night were entertained in Swiss fashion at a colorful little cafe in the old city. The Kosins arrived home November 3 following their week-long trip.

Wyoming hunting trip big success

THE MIDA MEN — Herb and his three sons, Bob, Bill and Lynn are back from their recent 10 day trip to Buffalo, Wyoming where they managed to make the most of the hunting season. Pitching camp in the Bighorn National Forest, their party also included Ricky Prolongo and Jim Spigerelli of Plymouth.

All six of the men bagged a mule deer with Bill also getting himself an antelope. The meat was processed and packaged for the group and brought back to Michigan in a specially-insulated trailer.

We don't think Mrs. Mida is going to have much trouble deciding 'what's for dinner tonight.'

COOKING CLASSES — Homemade ice cream was on the agenda October 30 when the weekly cooking class met at the Neighborhood Service Center at 35351 Beverly Rd., Romulus. Sponsored by Communities United for Action (CUFA), the project is a joint effort of CUFA and the Wayne County Expanded Nutrition Program. Janet Barr (center), nutritional educational assistant for the Nutrition program, has provided instruction beginning with safety in the kitchen and emphasizing such things as cleanliness and the basics needed for balanced diets. Among the items made in the past were pizza, cocoa no-bake cookies and cock-eyed cake. Mrs. Johnnie Coffield, counselor-aide at the center, coordinated CUFA's efforts in the project. Among the dozen young cooks enjoying the sessions are (from left) Joannah Wagner, nine; Annette Bailey, 12; Jackie Bailey, nine; and Joyce Poole, 11.

Schweigert playing in WMU Band

Western Michigan University's Department of Music will present its Fifth Annual Band Spectacular Friday, November 16, at 8 p.m. in the James W. Miller Auditorium. Over 250 WMU students will perform in five ensembles: the University Symphonic Band, the University Wind Ensemble, the University Jazz Lab Band and the University Marching Band.

Several innovations will highlight the Marching Band's appearance this year. Richard Swinick is in his first year as director and he has incorporated a new marching style. A new 12-member Flag Corps will join the 80-member band on the Miller Auditorium stage, as will the 16-member Bronette pom pon and dance unit. Each unit, including the 16-man drum line, will be featured in the various musical selections. The Marching Band portion of the Band Spectacular promises to be more colorful and exciting than ever before.

WMU students from this area who will be performing in this concert include: Jim Schweigert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Schweigert of Elwell Road, Belleville.

CHANGE IN PACE — Start the day off with 'something different', something to catch the eye as well as tickle the appetite a bit. Set the pace for the day with an inviting breakfast of oatmeal pancakes topped with butter and lots of Log Cabin Syrup. Dress up the menu with two tasty syrup recipes. (Courtesy Log Cabin Syrup).

For your recipe file

Get off to a pancake start

Turn 'Morning Grouch' to beams of pleasure with a heaping platter of Oatmeal Pancakes topped with butter and lots of rich, Log Cabin Syrup. More than just a once-a-week affair, you can set the pace for the day with an inviting breakfast - your family will never guess that it's good for them, too!

So easy - start with a prepared mix, adding quick-cooking rolled oats and syrup to the batter for a tender, tasty variation of the basic pancake. Serve with butter and Log Cabin Syrup poured right from the bottle - or warmed. You might even spice up breakfast with some interesting and flavorful Log Cabin Syrup recipes. Serve warm Apple Syrup for a subtle, tart-sweet fruit flavor pour-on.

Oatmeal Pancakes

1/4 cup maple-blended syrup
3/4 cup milk
1 egg
1 cup pancake mix
1/2 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
Combine syrup, milk, and egg. Add pancake mix, oats, and shortening. Beat lightly just until well blended. Bake on a hot lightly greased griddle, turning to brown both sides. Serve hot with butter and additional maple-blended syrup, if desired. Makes about 1 dozen 4-inch pancakes.

Apple Syrup

1 large tart apple, thinly sliced (about 1 one-third cups)
1 cup maple-blended syrup
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 stick cinnamon
Dash of salt
Or use 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon.
Combine apple, syrup, butter, cinnamon, and salt in a saucepan. Cover and simmer over low heat about 7 minutes. Serve at once on waffles, pancakes, French toast, or vanilla ice cream. Makes about 2 cups.

All Around the Town ...with Lee

PFC CHUCK WEISE and his wife, Peggy, are back in the States after an absence of seven months. Enjoying a 27-day leave from duties with the U.S. Army's Seventh Corps Field Artillery, the couple are here from Bamberg, Germany. They are dividing their time between the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morris of Haggerty Road and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weise of Alden Drive... THE HUDGES — Jim, Shirley and Teresa - returned recently to their home on Rawsonville Road after a two weeks vacation in the South. Driving to Tishamingo, Mississippi, they spent several days with Shirley's mother and sister, Mrs. Amy Southward and Nita (formerly of Belleville) and also visited other relatives in the area. They then drove on to Tarpon Springs, Florida to visit Jim's mother and dad, Julianna and Leonard Hudge (also formerly of Belleville). Jim's dad had, unfortunately, suffered a stroke before they arrived and was taken to Tarpon Springs General Hospital where he remains a patient. He is in room 513 for those who might like to drop cards.

Teen Dance Friday to aid 'The Number'

A Teen Dance, sponsored by 'The Number', will be held Friday, Nov. 16, from 8 to 12 p.m. at the P.N.A. Hall, Sumpter at Harris Rds. Jim Amerman and his group will provide music for the evening.

Tickets at $1 each are now on sale at five Belleville businesses: Don and Carol's Party Store, Gondolier Music House, Hoot's Boots, T.D. Sports Shop, and He and She Pant Store. Tickets will also be sold at the door the night of the dance.

Patron tickets at $5, each are also being sold. Those wishing to make a contribution to 'The Number' may send checks to Box 9, Belleville, Mich., 48111.

Refreshments will be available at the dance and all area teens are invited to attend.

Inflation ups beef price

As the cherished cut of beef makes its way from ranch to supermarket meat counter, it confronts increasing costs all along the line. Wages and taxes are up. The costs of materials, equipment and supplies, including feed, are up. Obviously, the retail price of beef must reflect these effects of inflation on the total economy in addition to the upward pressure of ever increasing consumer demand.

THANKSGIVING WEEK

★★ In the armed services ★★

Army Pvt. First Class Kenneth R. Campbell, 20, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus J. Campbell, 8885 Rawsonville Rd., Belleville, participated with other American and Allied Troops in exercise reformation V in Germany, Oct. 10-16.

The military airlift command flew approximately 11,000 U.S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Pfc. Campbell is regularly assigned as a driver with Company A of the 3rd Infantry Division's 10th Engineer Battalion at Schweinfurt, Germany. His wife, Susan, is with him in Germany.

Army Pvt. First Class Thomas R. Burroughs, 20, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burroughs, 3813 Fairfield Dr., Montgomery, Ala., participated with other American and allied troops in Exercise Reforger V in Germany.

Pvt. Burroughs is regularly assigned as a chaparral missile crewman in Battery C, 3d Battalion of the 3d Infantry Division's 67th Air Defense Artillery at Giebelstadt Air Base, Germany.

The private's wife, Mary, lives at 7292 Burton, Romulus.

Army Sgt. Joseph W. Collier, the son of Joseph F. Collier of Missouri, is a squad leader in Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion, 509th Infantry, Italy.

Sgt. Collier entered the Army in May 1971, completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and was last stationed in Germany.

He was graduated from Neelyville High School in 1966.

His wife, Geneva, lives at 37535 W. Huron River, Dr., Romulus.

U.S. Air Force Captain Terry W. Fuller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Fuller of 20885 Vining Rd., New Boston, has graduated from the Strategic Air Command's Minuteman missile combat crew operational readiness training course at Vandenberg

Air Force Base, Calif.

Capt. Fuller now goes to Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., for further training as a missile combat crew member.

A 1963 graduate of Huron High School, he received his B.A. degree in management in 1967 from Michigan State University.

The captain was commissioned the same year upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. His wife, Betty, is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur H. Schiller of 19495 Somers St., New Boston.

Navy Fireman Apprentice Timothy L. Wilson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurance E. Wilson of 6266 Morton Taylor Rd., Belleville, completed the electrician's mate school at Great Lakes, Ill.

A 1972 graduate of Belleville High School, he is scheduled to report aboard the USS Hammer stationed at San Francisco, Calif.

GARY KENT

Seaman Gary Ronald Kent, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kent Jr., 29145 Smith Rd., Romulus, recently graduated from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. He is to attend school to be a boiler technician.

Prior to entering the service, Kent attended Romulus High School.

Air Force ROTC Cadet Douglas L. Eye, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stelman Eye of 48705 Bemis Road, Belleville, has received AFROTC Solo Wings by taking off and landing alone and unassisted in a single engine aircraft.

Eye is an MSU senior majoring in dairy science. Upon completion of his degree and AFROTC training requirements, he will receive a commission as a second lieutenant and enter Air Force pilot training.

Under the AFROTC Flight Instruction Program, cadets who are qualified for Air Force pilot training receive 36½ hours of instruction in a Cherokee 140 aircraft during their senior year.

The cadets also receive 30 hours of classroom instruction in navigation, weather, and federal air regulations, and may qualify for a Federal Aviation Agency private pilot license upon completion of their training.

Airport to offer shuttle

The Chairman of the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, has announced a new service for patrons of Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus.

A free shuttle bus service between the decked parking structure and the terminals will be available on a 24 hour basis.

The airport, which is operated by the road commission, would provide small van-type buses to carry travelers from their parked cars to whichever terminal they desire.

Area man writes poem on hunting

The following poem was submitted by Frank Merrell of Belleville. The poem was written by Merrell, 74, while hunting near Mancelona.

THE OLD DEER HUNTER

I've been a hunter the most of my life, the most treasured possessions are my dog, gun and knife.

Every year 'long about this time, I can't seem to get hunting out of my mind.

So, I load my gear in my pick-up truck, and head up north to try my luck.

I set up camp beside the Manistee, where the water flows, so pure and free.

And, as I stand there and look around me, I think how nice it would be.

If people and all their relation, would keep it like this for the next generation.

I'm out at my stand in the early morning, when the stars are still shining bright.

I set there all day, till darkness comes, and I can't see my sights.

I've hunted in rain, sleet and heavy snow, and when I do see a deer, it turns out to be a doe.

Then, I go in to camp, chilled to the bone; only to cook, eat and sleep alone.

As I walk down the road and around that last bend, I realize the deer hunting is about to end.

So, I'll go back home where I started from, and wait for another deer season to come.

Now, I'm rather glad that I had no luck, but if I still have my health and life doesn't end,

I'll be back next year, for that 12 point buck and meet and talk with some very good friends.

Romulus man gets degree

A Romulus resident recently was awarded a degree from Central Michigan University.

He is Michael S. Chapo of 10279 Hyde Park. Chapo earned a bachelor of science degree with a major in biology.

He was among 650 students to be awarded degrees at the end of the summer session.

Panax Corporation reports increase in net revenues

Panax Corporation, newspaper publishing and commercial printing company, reports a 10 per cent increase in net revenues and, including nonrecurring items, a 22 per cent increase in net earnings for the third quarter ending Sept. 30, compared to the same period in 1972.

For the third quarter this year, per share earnings of 17 cents resulted from net revenues of $6,634,980 and earnings of $196,181. This compares with per share earnings of 14 cents on net revenues of $6,050,025 and earnings of $160,358 for the third quarter of 1972.

Third quarter earnings include $81,579 net after-tax gain on discount for prepayment of indebtedness. Earnings from operations for the third quarter were $114,602 or 10 cents per share, compared with $160,358 or 14 cents per share, for the same quarter last year.

Panax President John P. McGoff commented on the current newsprint situation faced by the newspaper industry.

"The recent settlements of Canadian newsprint mill strikes is encouraging," he said. "We look forward to the remaining mills on strike reaching agreement in order for the industry to get back to full production."

"The Panax Newspapers and printing operations have joined the industry in accepting the temporary decrease in newsprint supply.

Unless there are further curtailments, we do not expect any materially adverse effect on our earnings."

Panax owns The Daily Eagle, The Romulus Roman and The Belleville Enterprise.

Don't delay! Our new low-cost home insulation program can cut gas heating costs up to 17%.

In just a few short weeks, many of our customers around Michigan have taken advantage of a new program to hold down heating bills and help save Natural Gas, too. The program was developed at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is seeking ways to conserve Natural Gas and hold down utility bills by the wise use of energy.

The heart of the program is installing ceiling insulation in your home. It's quick. Economical. Easy. In fact, a recent government study found "the most significant opportunity" for homeowners to conserve energy was through "improved insulation of houses," [which] "would benefit the individual homeowner by reducing winter fuel bills, summer air conditioning bills, size and capital cost of heating and cooling equipment, and air pollution." The Michigan Public Service Commission has found that many homeowners could achieve fuel savings of as much as 17% by having six inches of insulation in their attics. Naturally, results for your home may vary due to architectural differences and your heating habits.

To help you realize fuel savings in your home, we've designed an easy home insulation program. Here's how it works.

First, you can install the ceiling insulation yourself. It's a simple do-it-yourself project—and the most economical way to put in ceiling insulation. Many customers can accomplish the task for less than $100.

To assist you in the project, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has even prepared a helpful booklet that shows just how to do the job.

Secondly, you can call a contractor of your choice and arrange to have the work done. Or call Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. We'll have one of our participating insulation subcontractors install it for you, which can also be easy on your budget. Many houses with up to 1,000 square feet in the ceiling area can be insulated for less than $200. And, there's a payment plan to suit most every customer. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay just 20% down at the time the contract is signed—then simply have the remaining cost included in your gas bill. Pay it off on your next three gas bills with no interest or carrying charges.

Finally, you can pay for the job over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

Whichever you choose, you'll be taking an important step toward holding down your heating bills. And cutting down on the use of Natural Gas. Why not plan on doing it now. Contact us today for additional details. And if you're a do-it-yourselfer, ask for our free booklet.

Musical re-created

Museum concert series begins

As the season's first offering in the "Historical Concert Series," the Henry Ford Museum Theater is presenting "An Early American Parlor Concert" Sunday at 3:30 p.m. The concert is a whimsical re-creation of a typical musicale of the mid-19th century.

It presents a romantic, entertaining and often funny program of descriptive instrumental pieces, sentimental ballads and witty repartee as performed by soprano Faye Turner accompanied by Bernard Katz on the melodeon, square piano and "mechanical singing bird."

The concert features some

—For your— Entertainment

familiar selections from the classical repertoire and several whose lineage is less distinguished.

On occasion, the audience is asked to participate in the program, notably in learning a work titled "Holiday Song," written for the Detroit Public Schools at the close of fall term in 1890.

Miss Turner and Katz are costumed in the style of the 1860's in keeping with the period of the concert. The instruments Katz plays also are from the period and have been borrowed from the museum's collection.

The artists performing in the "Early American Parlor Concert" are both well-known Detroit musicians. Miss Turner is familiar in Detroit chamber music circles. She is the initiator of the "Historical Elmwood Concerts" and teaches and coaches basic vocal techniques as well as French, German and Italian repertoire.

KATZ is a Detroit-trained classical pianist who plays in an amazing variety of styles. He performs innumerable chamber concerts on piano and harpsichord, is the pianist for the Civic Light Opera and Melody Circus Tent and has worked in night clubs and with dance bands.

For information, call 271-1620.

HE WALKED TALL—Sheriff Pusser (Joe Don Baker) embraces his wife Pauline (Elizabeth Hartman) in a tender moment from the BCP Production of "Walking Tall." The film is showing at a local movie theater.

Modern Jazz Quartet to perform in Detroit

The Modern Jazz Quartet will make its first Detroit-area appearance in more than three years when it gives a concert Sunday at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts, 350 Madison Ave., Detroit.

The event is being given for the benefit of Your Heritage House, Inc., of Detroit, a fine arts museum for children.

The Quartet has been performing together since 1952.

Pianist John Lewis, the group's music director, has said, "I think there is a jazz renaissance going on. We see it around the country and in Europe, where we play every year."

"Young people who we thought belonged to the pop audience are coming in and are genuinely interested, and so are the young pop musicians. They sometimes wonder how we lasted. Some of them weren't even born when we started."

The other members of the Quartet are Milt Jackson, vibraphonist; Percy Heath, bassist; and Connie Kaye, drummer. Jackson is originally from Detroit.

For ticket information, call 833-9789.

Of dance

Group sets performance

The Martha Graham Dance Company will perform at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts on Nov. 30 at 8:30 p.m. and Dec. 1 at 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Martha Graham, the senior star of the American modern dance, has few peers. Her contribution to the American dance as choreographer, dancer, teacher and innovator is immeasurable.

While in Detroit, the company will perform "Seraphic Dialogue," "Errand into the Maze," "Letter to the World," "Cave of the Heart," "Diversion of Angels," and the "Appalachian Spring."

The engagement will be topped Dec. 2nd as Miss Graham receives an honorary degree, Doctor of Human

Letters, from Marygrove College in Detroit.

For ticket information, call 963-7630.

Horse show slated

The "Wonderful World of Horses," featuring the "Royal Lipizzan Stallion Show," returns to Detroit's Cobo Arena for four performances on Nov. 23, 24 and 25, with two evening and two matinee shows.

Evening performances will start at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, while the matinees will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Forty horses, including Palominos, Arabians, Andalusians, Saddlebreds, Thoroughbreds and America's first breed, the Morgan, will also be featured. The white Lipizzaners, a rare breed created for the Hapsburg family of Austria in the 16th century, will perform a full, authentic program of their famed balance movements and great leaps known as the "Airs Above the Ground."

A host of internationally renowned riders in colorful costumes ranging from white tails to formal Austrian military costumes will present exciting equine acts and thrilling new production numbers including the exciting "Los Charros De Mexico."

For ticket information, call 892-1280.

'Black Girl' performance is planned

The Black Theater Concepts of the YWCA of Western Wayne County will present the play "BLACK GIRL" by J.E. Franklin at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday at the Inkster High School Auditorium.

The play is a story of a young black girl's struggle to find a better life for herself as she deals with the obstacles presented by her family. A gutsy, hard-core unsophisticated family life is present throughout the play which reflects the results of entrapment by prejudices and problems experienced by the family.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and $1 for students.

For further information, call Mrs. Myers at LO 1-4110 or Mrs. Judith Frazier at 278-2474.

'Folklorico' presentation to be staged

The National Dance Company of Mexico will present a two-hour "Fiesta Folklorico" at 8 p.m. in Dearborn.

The program of song and dance, designed to appeal to all age levels, will be in the Athletic Memorial Center of Henry Ford Community College, 5101 Evergreen Rd. Open to the public, the event is sponsored by the college's associated student government.

The Mexican company of 50 persons is on its second trans-continental tour of the United States.

STUDENTS BUILD HOUSE — Students enrolled in Van Buren School District's new Building Trades Program are building the first of three houses, on Beverly and Sheldon roads in Van Buren Township. There presently are 39 students enrolled in the trades program to learn the construction processes. When completed, the homes will be sold through real estate channels and sale proceeds re-invested in the trades program. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

Belleville High students building ranch house

The first of three new ranch-type homes being built by students enrolled in Belleville High School's Building Trades Program is under way at Beverly and Sheldon roads in Van Buren Township.

The building of the homes is part of Van Buren Public School District's new program which is an additional phase of the Vocational Educational Department's curriculum.

The building of the homes is part of Van Buren Public School District's new program which is an additional phase of the Vocational Educational Department's curriculum.

The new home in the $30,000 to $35,000 price range is being constructed by the students on two lots recently purchased with the approval of the Van Buren Board of Education. The lots cost $10,996.

The two-lot land parcel is to be realigned so that three lots will be available for the construction of the three planned homes.

The building program is under the direction of an instructor, Ray Antonini, who once worked as a general contractor, a carpenter and a structural iron worker. There are 39 students enrolled in the building trades program.

The program is the first in school district's history.

Nursery to hold meeting

The Carousel Co-Operative Nursery of Belleville will hold its general membership meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the United Presbyterian Church in Belleville.

The meeting will begin with a drawing for a "Lazy-Boy" chair.

Belleville senior citizens hold Thanksgiving dinner

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club will hold its annual Thanksgiving pot luck dinner at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at Edgemont Elementary School.

The turkeys, complete with "stuffin'" will be cooked by members of the club.

State Rep. Gary M. Owen (D-Van Buren) will be the guest speaker. He also will answer club member's questions.

The club's Christmas trip to Meadowbrook will be on Nov. 30. The bus will leave the First United Methodist Church at 1 p.m. and arrive back in the city at 8 p.m. Tickets to the festival are $2.

Members will dine at a cafeteria at 4:30 p.m. The return trip will through Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Woods and downtown Detroit.

The Christmas trip to Meadowbrook is a holiday event that attracts guests from all over the state. This year fairy land will be presented as "Christmas Around the World."

Adding to Meadowbrook Hall will be creations of prominent florists in interpretations of international themes and participants will be in native costumes.

We don't think you should have to wait around for an auto loan.

So we cut down on the red tape and traditional procedures you have to wade through when you get an auto loan from most other places.

And came up with an idea called on-the-spot loan approval. It means your loan gets approved fast.

Because all our branch managers have the authority to approve loans themselves. So you don't have to sit around while the person you're dealing with calls somebody else for approval.

We handle all our other loans quickly and efficiently, too.

Handling them any other way would just be a waste of time.

4-H Club member wins award

A member of the Eager Beaver 4-H Club of Belleville and club teen leader, came home from participating in the recent Detroit Livestock Show a happy girl, a club spokesman said.

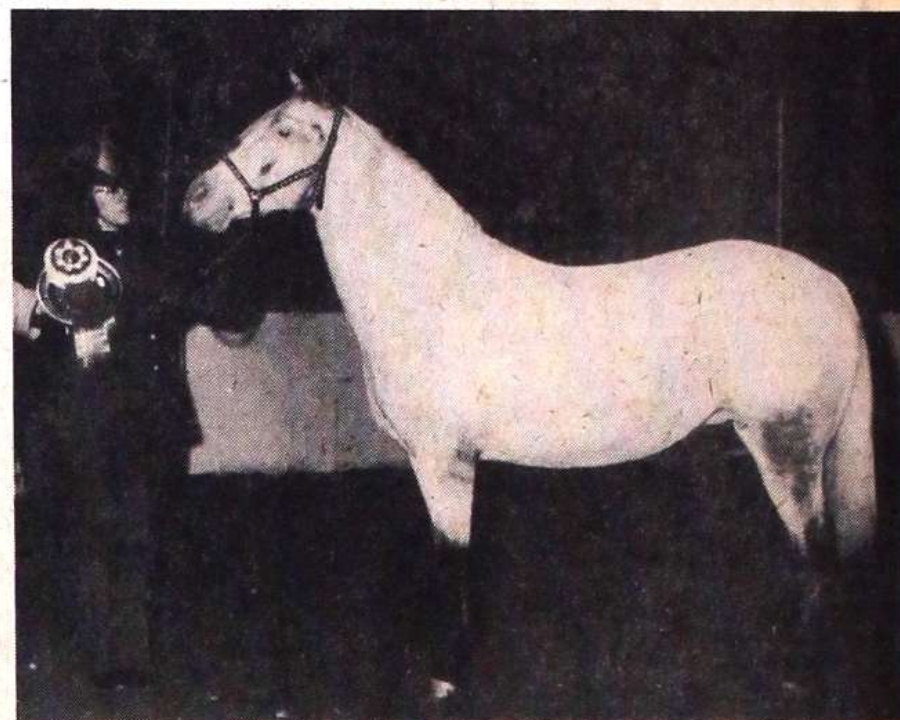

Sharon Tyler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tyler of 6080 Haggerty Rd., Belleville took first place in a class of 43 pony fitting and showing. She received a silver tray and ribbon trophy. She also took sixth place in pony pleasure.

Miss Tyler topped off her weekend at the show by going into the grand champion fitting and showing class against ponies and horses. She won a reserve grand champion ribbon.

The Michigan Heart Association says high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries set the stage for heart attack and stroke.

By having your blood pressure checked regularly by your doctor and watching your diet you can help yourself to a longer healthier life.

Avoid a diet rich in animal fats. Eat more fish, drink low-fat milk. Kitchen decisions can help reduce your risk of heart attack.

WINS HORSE SHOW HONORS — Sharon Tyler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tyler of 6080 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, took first place in a class for pony fitting and showing, and sixth place in the pony pleasure category at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show. She topped off her performance by winning a reserve grand champion rating. Her horse is named Misty Brat.

Fire extinguisher bill eyed for mobile homes

Mobile homes will become a little safer if legislation introduced by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) is enacted into law.

Faust's bill would require all mobile homes sold or purchased in Michigan to be equipped with a multi-purpose fire extinguisher approved by a nationally recognized independent testing laboratory. "The legislation we now have requires the management of a trailer park to supply a fire extinguisher in the caretaker's office and in all service and recreational buildings within the park," Faust said. "The purpose of this law is to encourage mobile home residents to purchase their own fire extinguishers and not rely on those supplied by the park management."

"While this may seem like a good idea on paper, the fact is that many mobile homes could be seriously damaged by a relatively minor fire because of a lack of adequate fire fighting equipment," he added. "My bill would require that every mobile home sold or purchased in Michigan have a fire extinguisher located inside the home in a conspicuous and easily accessible place."

Moose Lodge enrolls members

The Belleville Lodge No. 934 of the Loyal Order of Moose recently held an enrollment ceremony at the Moose Home. There were 16 members enrolled.

The new members are: John D. Schaar Jr., Laveryl Odum, Robert Ball Jr., James Roden, Claude Cable, David Garlick, Joseph Justin, Wilbur Newton, Roy Eagleson, William McGinnes.

Jack Partin, Donald Sims, Danny Wojciechowski, Adam Ulbin, Reavill Husk.

The ritual was exemplified by the ritual team from the Dearborn Heights Moose Lodge. A dinner was served by the Women of the Moose and dancing was enjoyed by all in attendance after the enrollment to the music of "The Huron Valley Boys," Moose George Steger said.

The Belleville Lodge has bingo every Sunday night at the Moose Home for Moose members and their guests. The early bird starts at 6 p.m.

Fish fries are held every Friday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. This month the fish fries will be put on by the Loyal Order of Moose Ritual Team.

Panax elects vice-president

The Board of Directors of Panax Corporation has announced the election of Donald H. Layman as vice-president and controller of the company, effective immediately.

An official of the daily and weekly newspaper publishing and printing company since 1966, Layman, 32, succeeds James J. Conway who recently resigned as vice-president of finance. Layman received his bachelor's degree from Central Michigan University and then joined the national firm of Ernst & Ernst as an accountant. He spent three years with Ernst & Ernst before becoming controller of Panax in 1966.

Layman is a member of the Institute of Newspaper Controllers and Finance Officers.

He lives with his wife and three children in Lansing and is a native of Birch Run, Mich. Panax Corporation owns the Daily Eagle, The Romulus Roman, and The Belleville Enterprise.

License bureau collects money

The Driver's License Bureau at the Belleville Police Department collected $6,926.50 in fees during October, Belleville Police Chief Clayton (Mickie) McLaughlin said.

The bureau issued 212 licenses, 914 license renewals, 130 duplicate licenses and made 77 license corrections in addition to changing 275 addresses.

"People turn to the Yellow Pages when they want specific answers."

"That's what we think and that's why we list many of our special sign services in our ad," continues Mr. Loren Whitcomb, Whitcomb Sign Co., 7636 West Road, Washington. "With few exceptions, people don't have a definite idea of what they want. Quite often potential customers call and ask about items like displays, plaques, silk screen, pin striping, electrical signs, etc. We take this as a sign they're probably looking at our Yellow Pages ad. By explaining our services I feel the Yellow Pages has a definite place in our total advertising program."

"Our Yellow Pages ad outproduces all of our other advertising 3 to 1," says Mrs. Rene Clark, Country Estate Mobile Homes, Inc., 58220 W. Eight Mile Rd., Northville. "It's our best advertising investment. Since we've had our ad, our business has increased by 50%! I think some business people overlook the fact that the Yellow Pages maintains a hard-hitting and effective ad campaign of its own. But we only have to look at our results to know that the campaign is really paying off in the form of more business for us."

Mr. Hershel Stuart, Federal Hardware and Supply, 29080 Southfield Rd., Southfield recommends Yellow Pages advertising highly. "My program includes display ads in the North Woodward and East Area Directories. These ads pull in literally hundreds of calls for fireplace fixtures, resulting in sales ranging from $20 to $200. I also receive a great deal of response from our ad at the 'Hardware' heading. This ad produces both calls and walk-in business."

A lot of sales help, that's what the Yellow Pages gives Mr. Chester Podgorny, Venoy Realty Co., 32508 Michigan Ave., Wayne. "During the past 16 years we have found Yellow Pages advertising a very efficient way to attract potential real estate customers.

The calls we get from the Yellow Pages are regarded as very important because these buyers are in the market now. We began with a half-page display ad. After we became established we switched to a smaller ad. However, we noticed a definite decrease in leads from the Yellow Pages and decided to return to the half-page ad we carry today."

Death penalty campaign starts

By WES THORP
Enterprise-Roman
Lansing Bureau

Rep. Kirby Holmes (R-Utica) is hanging his hopes for success in his drive to bring capitol punishment back to Michigan on press releases and the mood of the people.

Holmes, a freshman legislator from Macomb County, is hoping that these two items will provide the necessary force needed to place the question on the 1974 ballot.

His effort to restore the death penalty does not follow the pattern of past successful petition campaigns which were well-organized and well-financed.

SO FAR, HOLMES' statewide petition campaign has been do-it-yourself with him paying expenses for such things as printing out of his own pocket.

But, he and his handful of co-workers are counting on publicity from press releases and response from advertisements to whip-up the necessary enthusiasm.

Along with this hoped for enthusiasm, Holmes is counting on volunteers to step forward to gather signatures and to contribute money to pay the expenses of the campaign.

Once the public becomes aware of his capital punishment drive for convicted first-degree murderers, Holmes feels confident that he can get the necessary 300,000 signatures needed to put the question on the ballot.

"I'M SURE WE can get enough signatures," he says confidently.

A spokesman at the Michigan Education Association (MEA) which was successful in getting two constitutional amendments on the ballot in 1972, says that it's not quite that easy.

The MEA was the vital key in getting both amendments on the ballot.

One amendment was to change the method for financing operational expenses for local schools and the other was for a graduated income tax.

The campaign was plotted during the early spring of 1972 with MEA board members directing their attorneys to draft a petition which would meet all legal requirements. Then the MEA staff was given the order to gear-up the machinery to get the necessary signatures.

THEIR MACHINERY

U.S. Census Bureau to survey homes

Local representatives of the U.S. Bureau of the Census are interviewing a number of households in this area this week to obtain information on employment.

The Bureau is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Robert G. McWilliam, director of the bureau's data collection center in Detroit said the households are among 50,000 across the country that consisted of 80,000 dues-paying members, 525 local associations and 50 MEA offices scattered throughout the state.

A half million petitions were poured into the machinery with approximately 260,000 signatures needed for each question.

Within 90 days the MEA had approximately three-quarters of a million signatures on petitions.

In a letter, prepared for petition circulators, Holmes closes by saying, "With your help we will achieve our goal."

Church to hold service

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville will hold a Thanksgiving service at 7 p.m. at the church, 417 Charles St.

The Sacred Dance Group, composed of members of the church, will present a religious dance program during the services.

An open invitation to attend the service has been extended to the community by the Sacred Dance Group.

Township issues permits

The Van Buren Township Building Department issued 32 residential building permits during October. The permits called for an estimated $197,611 in construction costs.

Residential construction include three homes, 12 garages and carports and eight additions and alterations to present homes.

The department also issued 88 other permits. Total fees collected on permits issued amounted to $2,484.60.

The heating department issued 24 permits and collected $274 in fees. The plumbing department issued 17 permits and collected $710.50 in fees.

Belleville woman gets horse honor

A Belleville woman still is receiving congratulations for her horsemanship at the recent Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

She is Rita Crandall, 18, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Crandall of 8701 Belleville Rd., Belleville.

Miss Crandall and her horse "Tote-Bag" took sixth place in a field of 35 entries in the English pleasure calls and eighth place in a class of 35 that participated in the Western pleasure category.

St. Anthony's names winner of automobile

The winners of the annual "Cadillac Award Dinner" held under the sponsorship of St. Anthony's Men's Club have been announced.

The Cadillac award dinner was held Oct. 23.

The winners of a car were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dudy and H. Bryant Jr. and the winners of the $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond were Mrs. Pat Cullin, and Alice and Jerry Porzondek.

'Walk-on' leads All-Area harriers

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

A 16-year-old Detroit Catholic Central "walk-on" ran off with top honors at the fifth annual Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' All-Area Cross Country Meet.

Tom Soma, who qualified for the meet because he lives in Westland, took on area high school runners and won with a record-setting time over the three-mile Livonia Franklin course in Edward Hines Parkway.

Soma, a junior, making his first appearance at the All-

Area meet, bolted away from Wayne Memorial's Ray Nowak and Russ Gentner (Livonia Franklin) stretch to win in 15:50. He shattered Franklin's previous record of 15:37.

Nowak, a repeater from last year's All-Area squad, and Gentner, also clipped the record, finishing in 15:53 and 15:55, respectively.

The top 10 finishers were named to All-Area.

ALSO NAMED to the 1973 team are: Toby Theodore (John Glenn), Dave Kirst (John Glenn), Don Shaw (Livonia Churchill), Mike

Cundiff (Garden City West), Doug Shaffer (Livonia Franklin), Rick Nowak (Wayne Memorial) and Scott Kennedy (Garden City West).

Tony Magni, Detroit Catholic Central's first year cross country coach, was on hand to watch his protégé run, and after the victory said: "Tom's an excellent runner. He's the best I have ever coached."

He has excellent speed and can develop into an outstanding half or quarter-miler," the DCC coach added.

manent fixture on the Eagle's All-Area team for quite some time. Ray's brother won it last year. And "little brother," Rick, who finished ninth to nail down one of the 10 medals, is a junior who will be around next year.

Ray and Rick helped Coach Doug Garrett's Zebras to a 15-1 dual meet season, the regional championship and the Great Lakes 8 initial title.

Gentner, a key figure on Coach Bob Holmes' team this year, is a senior who has been competing in cross country for the past two years.

SEVENTEEN - year - old Theodore is one of three juniors who broke into this year's mythical lineup. He finished fourth in the Northwest Suburban Conference and eighth in the regional to qualify for state competition. Teammate Kirst, who won the league championship, finished second in the regional and 20th in the state.

Shaw, a 17-year-old senior, also won the Western 6 title, and wound up 11th at the regional which gave him a shot to compete in the state finals. For the past three years he has been a member of Dave Westover's team. The Chargers have captured the league crown three consecutive years.

Doug Shaffer, who muscled his way to an eighth place finish, also is a senior who participated in the state finals after finishing 17 in the regional.

Kennedy and Cundiff will form the nucleus of next year's Garden City West's team.

Cundiff, who was busy this week preparing for the wrestling season, is the only sophomore to make the grade. Ninth in the Tri-River and 11th at the regional, Mike also went to the state finals.

Also athletes who live in the area that The Daily Eagle or Associated Newspapers service are also eligible.

First-year Wayne State University basketball coach Bob Samaras' first game as coach of the Tartars will be against the University of Windsor, a school he guided to a 110-48 record in six years with six league titles and four Canadian national crowns.

Sports Meridian

Cross country:
It's man
vs. nature.

By TOM MOORADIAN

Brrrrrrrr. It was cold.

And windy.

And you had to wonder about the 40 some prep harriers who showed up in Edward Hines Parkway yesterday to duel for one of the 10 coveted All-Area berths - what manner of men are these that would brave the elements to challenge time?

But they came. From Livonia Franklin, Churchill, John Glenn, Belleville, New Boston Huron, Cherry Hill, Garden City East, And West. From Wayne Memorial, Romulus, Canton-Plymouth and Robichaud.

What makes a lad want to take up cross country, anyway? I asked several of the coaches. There is little, if any, fan participation, therefore, a minimum amount of applause at the finish line even for the winner.

There is little glory, unless you discount the personal satisfaction of accomplishment, of "beating the other guy and racing time."

SOME OF THE AREA coaches who had huddled yesterday to watch their minions run in the meet also had a variety of opinions on the subject.

"I feel the runner gets a personal satisfaction out of all of this," said Bill Pinnell, Garden City West's veteran coach. "He surely must have a lot of dedication to train and run three miles. And it also is an opportunity to prove himself."

Livonia Franklin's Bob Holmes looked upon the subject as a "challenge."

"It's because it's there - a challenge to the individual who is locked in head-to-head competition, and you really can't beat that type of competition."

CHERRY HILL'S Joe Grasley saw cross country as a sport fitting in the complex pattern of life.

"Competition is life," the Spartan mentor said, "and this sport exemplifies individual competition. Cross country blends right into the pattern of competing to get ahead."

Dave Westover, Livonia Churchill's strategist, had been a runner as a prep at Plymouth High School and pointed out that he ran because he liked and enjoyed the competition.

"Cross country isn't as boring as track where you seem to continuously encircle the track," said Westover, "it is a team and personal battle."

"Kids also like working together in a group," said Westover.

Wayne Memorial's Doug Garrett saw cross country as a sport where the runner seeks to pit himself against nature.

"It's the old theme of man against nature," said the Wayne coach, "and man has always looked at that as a challenge, to achieve as an individual and excel personally."

And, before we wrap up this column we would like to personally thank Coach Holmes, the meet director, for staging this, the fifth annual meet. And also thank all the coaches and runners who braved the elements to take part.

Let's hope next time, the Great Timekeeper in the skies will make it just a bit warmer.

ALL-AREA FIELD — Despite the lack of cooperation from the weatherman who presented high school harriers with an additional challenge by keeping temperatures low and winds high, the fifth annual All-Area Cross Country Meet was off to a fast start yesterday in Edward Hines Parkway. Some 35 shivering prep runners showed up for the gruelling 3-mile test that ended with 10 runners earning All-Area recognition and medals. Here is the start of that race.

DOUG GARRETT
'Coach of Year'

Wayne's Garrett picked area's top CC coach

"Motivating my boys to want to be the best." That's the philosophy Doug Garrett, Wayne Memorial's sophomore cross country coach has applied in forging one of the best teams in the state.

Garrett's teams in a period of two seasons have compiled a 30-2 won-lost record and also have won the Mid-Wayne Conference (72) and the initial Great Lakes 8 Association (73) championships.

Wayne was regional champ this year.

"I have a simple approach," relates Garrett, a former All-City cager from Detroit MacKenzie who also starred in basketball at Henry Ford Community College. "I try to motivate my runners to want to be the best.

"It's really rewarding to see them grow and mature in the sport."

GARRETT, 28, is honored today as The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' Cross Country Coach of the Year.

Rounding out his second year as Wayne High's coach, Garrett's team posted a 15-1 dual meet record this season. Only Livonia Churchill was able to stop the Zebra runners, spoiling their bid for a perfect season.

"Last year Glenn beat us, the only team to do so," said Garrett, "and our boys wanted to make it an undefeated year this season. But it just wasn't in the books, but who can complain about a 15-1 season?"

Doug earned his bachelor of arts in education from Eastern Michigan University where he met his wife, Florence. The Garretts have three small children - Doug Jr., 3, Christine 2, and Jeffrey, two months.

IF AREA coaches feel they will avenge any losses sustained from the Zebras in the distant future, they better take a second look at their lineups. Wayne has an excellent crop of sophomore runners coming up next year.

"A year ago I visited our junior highs and talked to the coaches and athletes and encouraged them to want to take part in our program," said Garrett.

All-Area gridders, golfers are next

This is the first, but not the last of the All-Area autumn teams.

The members of the cross country team had to battle the elements to earn their place on today's coveted lineup.

But, in the week ahead sports writer Dale Gowing and editor Tom Mooradian will be having "skull sessions" with area coaches to determine the composition of the All-Area Football and Golf Teams.

So stay with us - the best is yet to come.

Romulus to host cage tournament

With their annual Thanksgiving Basketball Tournament ahead of them, Romulus cagers will get down to business early as Coach Jesse Merriweather, takes over the helm of the Eagle cage machine.

Merriweather replaces Dave Court as Romulus head coach.

On Friday, Romulus will hold its "Meet the Team" night with basketball games scheduled for eighth, ninth, jayvees and varsity squads. The games will begin at 7 p.m., and admission charge is 50 cents. However, sponsor card holder will be admitted free of charge.

Romulus will host Detroit Southwestern, the reigning Class A basketball champ, East Catholic and Cass Technical High (Detroit) for a four-team holiday tournament slated for Nov. 20-21.

Pistons seeking top foul shot

To all women basketball players!

There's still time to enter the Detroit Pistons-National Basketball Association free-throw shooting contest and win an all-expense trip to San Diego, California, and a chance to win national honors and also appear on television coast-to-coast.

It's simple and there's no entry fee involved.

Just get together with another female basketball player. You must be 18 years of age or older as of November 21, 1973, to be eligible.

THEN HURRY to the King High School, 3200 E. Lafayette, in Detroit where the final Detroit-area qualifying round will be held this Thursday (Nov. 15) at 8:30 p.m.

The idea of the competition is this: While one girl shoots from the foul line, her teammate rebounds.

Tigers wind up 3-6

Ypsi nips Belleville

By DALE GOWING
Enterprise-Roman
Sports Writer

What upsets Belleville High head football Coach Keith Emerson the most about his team's frustrating 3-6 season record was the glaring fact that this was supposed to be the year the Tigers made waves in the Suburban Eight Conference.

"This was supposed to be our year, and look how we finished," moaned Emerson in a retrospective look at his team's six straight losses after opening the season with three victories.

"Our last game was one of our better ones, but it's a shame we had to wait this long to do it."

THOUGH THEY played better than they had in some time, the Tigers still fell to neighboring rival Ypsilanti High, 21-14, in overtime last Friday to conclude their season.

Belleville performed well all-around against the Braves and even completed 14 of 27 passes for 128 yards, but it was a pair of interceptions by the Brave defenders that spelled the difference.

In their first series of downs, the Tigers were stunned when quarterback Lee Stiltner was intercepted at the hosts' 40, the ball was fumbled and then scooped up by Ypsi's Mike Grice, who raced 40 yards for a 7-0 Brave lead.

THE TIGERS recovered and engineered a 60-yard drive of their own in the opening quarter, capped by a one-yard TD plunge by sophomore halfback Dan Theodore and topped Stiltner's point after.

YPSILANTI BOUNDED back in the second period with a five-yard scoring run by fullback Brian Anderson, who enjoyed a 110-yard rushing night, and after Marcus Taylor split the uprights with the hosts' second PAT of the game, Ypsilanti held a 14-7 halftime lead.

Neither team scored in the third period, although Belleville entered inside Ypsi's 10 yard line before being intercepted. The Tigers on another occasion lost the ball on downs on the Brave five.

Belleville finally pulled even with Ypsilanti in the fourth quarter on a one-yard run by Theodore and Stiltner's kick, which put the game into overtime.

Given the ball on the Belleville 10 after a coin toss, Ypsilanti's Ken Robinson threw a six-yard scoring strike to Tom Clark on third down and Taylor added the PAT for a 21-14 lead, and Belleville was plugged up when it tried to score from Ypsi. IN ADDITION TO the 128 yards passing, Belleville rolled up 209 yards on the ground, thanks to Theodore's 110 and Bruce Ford's 88. Theodore carried 33 times and Ford eight. Belleville edged the Braves in first downs, 19-11, and recovered Ypsi's fumble. Ypsi totaled 158 yards rushing and 32 passing, but picked off three key Tiger aerials for the most important statistic.

Emerson is baffled as to why the season ended in such a disastrous fashion, but put partial blame on a negative attitude of some of his seniors. "We just had too many guys who didn't care I guess," he said. "We knew we had the talent to go a long way, but it wasn't until our last game that we showed it."

And to make matters worse, there is no indication that Belleville can pick up the pieces next year because of the heavy flavoring of inexperience promised for 1974. A predominantly senior team this year, Emerson will likely enter a rebuilding phase in 1974.

"You never know, though," philosophized Emerson. "We had a lot of experience this year but couldn't win—maybe we'll win next year without it."

Ex-NCAA champ featured

Schoolcraft to offer area wrestling clinic

There's still time to register for the second annual Schoolcraft College Wrestling Clinic slated for Saturday, November 17.

Dr. Marvin Gans, Schoolcraft Athletic Director, said that registrations should be made between 8-9 a.m. on the day of the clinic at the new $3 million Schoolcraft athletic facility.

Featured instructor at this year's clinic will be Gray Simons, coach of the Indiana State University team.

SIMONS is a former three-time NCAA champion and a four-time NAIA champion. He was named "outstanding wrestler" in each of the four years he won the NAIA tourney and received the same honor from the NCAA twice.

He was a member of the 1960 and 1964 United States Olympic teams.

Dr. Gans noted that locker room facilities will be available for individuals who want to actively participate in the clinic.

For further information contact Dr. Gans or Schoolcraft Wrestling Coach Larry Meyer at 591-6400.

struction in spiking, blocking, serving, offense, and defense.

The Developmental Volleyball Clinic is one of a series of three clinics offered each year by Schoolcraft College.

Two weeks ago, famed Indiana Swim Coach Dr. James Councilman and University of Michigan Diving Coach Richard Kimball were the featured instructors at the third annual Swimming and Diving Clinic. Next week Gray Simons of Indiana State University will direct Schoolcraft's Wrestling Clinic.

All ages and both sexes were represented at the Schoolcraft Volleyball Clinic. Men's and women's team from YMA's and industrial leagues attended the clinic, as did boys' and girls' teams from high schools, junior high schools, and colleges.

AMONG THOSE attending the clinic were the Ford Motor Company team, Detroit Edison men's team, and the Detroit, Trenton, Plymouth, and Novi Recreation Department teams.

Schools sending teams and coaches to the clinic included Edsel Ford, Grosse Pointe South, Hazel Park, Southfield, Farmington-Harrison, Oak Park, Immaculata, Fordson, Bishop Gallagher, Plymouth-Salem, Birmingham, and Birmingham Seaholm high schools.

Also in attendance were the Allen Park Recreation team, Livonia YMCA team, Henry Ford Community College team, and representatives from the Eastern Michigan University team. Also present were teams from Pierce, Dickinson, and Hills and Dales (Grand Rapids) junior high schools.

Winter planning

MSU looks ahead for better days

EAST LANSING (AP) — With the end of the season in sight, Michigan State coach Dennis Stolz has begun thinking about what would make a respectable record.

"If we win the last two games, I would be satisfied," he said Monday. The Spartans are now 3-6 over-all and 2-4 in the Big Ten, with games left against Indiana and Iowa.

"That would give us four wins in the last five games, and give us some momentum to help the winter program," he continued. "The worse games to lose are the first and last ones."

With the honors or Ohio State behind them, the Spartans would seem to have a fighting chance at ending at 5-9 in the conference.

"The games we have coming up are similar to Purdue and Wisconsin—games we won," Stolz said. "We should end up about the middle of the Big Ten."

The physical condition of the Spartans will have much to say about the outcome of the final games, however.

The injury bug which riddled the offense in the Wisconsin game has now struck the defense, as linebacker Terry McClowry, second on the team in tackles, suffered a torn shoulder and might miss both games. He will be replaced by his twin brother, Pat.

Quarterback Tyrone Willingham, thoroughly frustrated against the mighty Buckeyes, is expected to start again in the absence of the injured Charlie Baggett. But freshman Marshall Lawson is nearby if the diminutive sophomore has problems.

Otto Smith was named "Spartan of the Week," and will start again at defensive end, replacing Tom Kronner.

The late-season personnel juggling has led Stolz to close the doors of practice for the second week in a row, as he seeks to arrange his forces.

She's a foreman

Occupation may stump panel

If Beverly Muse of Belleville appeared on TV's "What's My Line?", the panelists would be perplexed.

Her svelte figure and fashionable dress do not provide clues to her occupation. But when she exchanges her pastel-tinted, wire-framed specs for safety glasses, dons a monogrammed smock and steps onto the floor of the Chevrolet Motor Division's Spring and Bumper Plant in Livonia, it becomes evident.

Beverly is a foreman. A FORMER typist and some-time fashion model, Beverly supervises 32 hourly employees, leading her team in handling up to 1,800 automobile bumpers per hour in the plant's packing department.

"The job is quite a responsibility," she said. "It's a challenge—a challenge I needed and requested."

"As a foreman, I work with people and with machines. I deal with the people first. If the people aren't operating well, they won't operate the machines well."

Beverly speaks softly and modestly. But she makes it known she wasn't handed her foreman's position.

"I HAD to earn my stripes," she said. "Before I made the request to work as a foreman, I had to feel confident in my capabilities to do the job. My peers and co-workers helped to instill some of that confidence."

"I was given a chance to get a good look at the job as a temporary summer replacement foreman," she added. "It was a training program. On Aug. 1, I got my stripes. I became a full-time foreman."

"My previous experiences—I've been with General Motors for five years—helped me reach this position."

Beverly began her GM career at age 16 as a Belleville High School "co-op" student. Each day she went to school four hours, and worked four hours as a typist at GM's Hydra-matic while attending Eastern Michigan University (EMU) on a part-time basis.

WHAT'S MY LINE? — Looking more like a model than a factory worker, Beverly Muse of Belleville actually is a foreman at the Chevrolet Motor Division's Spring and Bumper Plant in Livonia. The 22-year-old former clerk-typist and some-time fashion model supervises a team of 32 hourly workers in handling up to 1,800 automobile bumpers an hour in the plant's packing department.

SHE TOOK an educational leave for eight months from Hydra-Matic to take business administration and secretarial courses at EMU. Beverly then came to the spring and bumper plant as a clerk in the maintenance section of plant engineering. "I was a dispatcher," she said. "And my job was to find the people to service the plant machines."

She then became a clerk in the personnel department of the plant where she provided service to people rather than machines.

BEVERLY cruises the floor of the packing department many times in the course of her 4:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift. She makes certain the working conditions, employee morale, housekeeping and efficiency are up to par. She records her employees' time and overtime.

Each day she figures "the lineup" or numbers of bumpers that must be packed. And she controls, electronically, the lines on which the bumpers ride into her department. She supervises the "RPO" or "Regular Production Option" which in the case of the automobile bumper, is the addition of a vertically-placed metal, rubber, stripped part.

The operation of her department usually runs smoothly, Beverly said. "But if I ever get a problem I can't handle, my general foreman always is there."

"Some day I think I'd like to be a general foreman or maybe a superintendent. Or maybe go all the way and be a general superintendent."

HER GOALS also reach beyond her work. She wants to do more traveling, although she said she's driven her car to her birthplace, Mississippi, to Chicago, New York City and Connecticut.

"I'd really enjoy racing a stock car," she added.

Beverly said she would like to continue modeling clothes, an aspiration she says was spurred by a modeling job she did for a department store in Ypsilanti.

Beverly said she is glad she requested and is meeting the challenges of being plant foreman.

This offer expires May 31, 1974. Good only in U.S.A. Void if taxed, restricted or forbidden by law.

You know what meat prices are today and so do we. It's clearly time for some good old American ingenuity. Above is the Eckrich Blank Check. It's an invitation to try our products and at the same time save as much as you'd like—from a quarter up to a dollar—on your meat purchases this week. The offer is good on our Smokes, Smok-Y-Links, Fresh Pork Sausage, 12 oz. and 16 oz. Bologna, and our many varieties of Hot Dogs.

How much you save is up to you. But whether you save a quarter on a package of hot dogs, or take full advantage of our offer by trying four different Eckrich products and saving a dollar, you'll be saving a lot more than we could give you with just a coupon. This isn't a giant giveaway, obviously. It's nothing more than a good business move, designed to help you cut your expenses during these times of rising food prices. In doing so, you'll help us by increasing our volume. By responding to your needs, we solve our needs. You don't have to be president of the company to realize that's the best way to do business and make new friends.

IN TIMES LIKE THESE, YOU NEED A FRIEND IN THE MEAT BUSINESS.

PROUD MOMENT — Ray Waack, a fourth grader and captain of the Safety Patrol at Harrison Elementary School in Romulus, got his badge pinned on by John Young of the Wayne County Sheriff's Traffic Bureau during a special program at the school. Looking on are Karl Kossel, a fourth grade student and a safety Patrol lieutenant; Jean Weiler, fourth grade teacher at Harrison and Safety Patrol representative, and Joyce Palmer parent chairman of the safety program at the school. With the transfer of fifth and sixth grade students to the Middle School in Romulus, the responsibility for the safety of their schoolmates falls on the sturdy shoulders of fourth graders, who received their official belts from the sheriff's patrol. — Enterprise - Roman photo.

Mahalak suggests jobs for veterans

An area state representative has introduced a bill to require that security superintendents, watchmen, marshals, guards and attendants appointed at various state institutions be honorably discharged combat veterans of the armed forces.

The requirement, Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) said, would apply to state corrections institutions; institutions for the mentally ill and mentally and physically handicapped, certain state colleges and universities, the Michigan State Fair and the Michigan Soldiers Home.

"The purpose of the bill is to give special preference to veterans," Mahalak said. "It especially is important today when there are so many returned veterans of fighting in Southeast Asia, many of them in need of employment. I feel that the state should lead the way in providing jobs for these men and women."

Mahalak is chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veteran's Affairs and has for many years been a leader in sponsoring veterans' legislation. The employees specified in the law have the general authority of police officers, with the power to make arrests for the protection of state property.

Stresses assessment change

Milliken's plan may ease taxes

Concerned with increasing property taxes in local communities, Michigan Gov. William Milliken is backing a multi-faceted program for helping to relieve the property tax burden.

"Property tax relief is one of my administration's major program objectives," Milliken said. "The tax relief program which I presented to the legislature this year, and which ultimately was adopted, was built around property tax relief - $79 million worth during fiscal 1973-74."

"But, I don't think that reform of our property tax system should stop there."

MILLIKEN HAS proposed to the state legislature a two-part program to insure more equal property taxes and a better method of appeals of unfair property taxes.

The major change in the present assessment procedure announced by the governor is to change the equalization procedure now used to cope with inflation in property values.

Presently, the tax equalization factor is drawn up from an average of the factors for four types of property - residential, industrial, commercial and agricultural.

Milliken would propose to have the equalization factor applied to communities by class of property; giving residential property owners a different equalization factor than commercial property owners.

AT THE SAME time, Milliken has proposed a change in the time limits for equalization appeals from local units of government to the county. Presently, a local unit has five days to analyze the equalization factor, and to present an appeal. Milliken favors a 15-day study period before filing appeals.

The governor also is lobbying for legislation to promote "uniform and equitable assessments at a local level," and stricter regulations for certifying new tax assessors in local communities.

The governor proposes to change the board of appeals structure "eliminating the present situation in which the appeal agency rules on its own staff work."

Milliken would rather see the creation of a "tax tribunal" to handle appeals, rather than the present "Tax Board of Appeals," appointed by the unit of government.

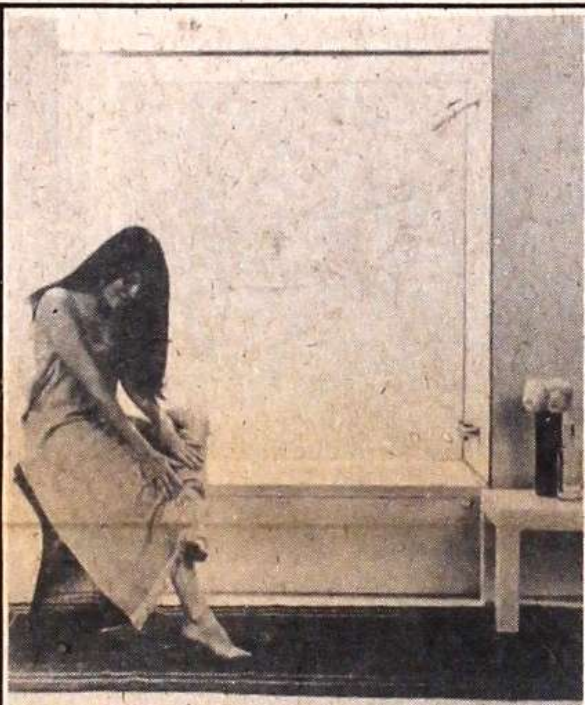

"I intend to work hard for these goals during the coming months," Milliken said. "These are goals which I believe are desirable and necessary for changes in the current property tax system."

We want to do more for you.

You're Invited...

to our 102nd birthday celebration
Friday, November 16th.

We at Wyandotte Savings Bank feel great pride in our long standing involvement in the community. And even greater pride in the many friendships we've established over the years. Perhaps this simple philosophy most clearly expresses our feelings:

PEOPLE WHO COME THROUGH THE DOORS OF WYANDOTTE SAVINGS BANK USE MONEY AS A MEANS OF MEASURING HOW MUCH THEY HAVE EARNED, WHAT THEY HAVE MANAGED TO SAVE AND WHAT THEY ARE WORTH. THEY KNOW THAT MONEY IS A MEANS OF SETTING ASIDE THE FRUITS OF TODAY'S LABOR FOR THE NEEDS AND OPPORTUNITIES OF TOMORROW. AND FOR MORE THAN 100 YEARS THEY HAVE ENTRUSTED THEIR MONEY TO US. WE COUNT IT FOR THEM. WE PROTECT IT FOR THEM AND INVEST IT FOR THEM. BUT WE ALWAYS REMEMBER, AS WE DO OUR COUNTING, THAT PEOPLE COUNT MOST OF ALL.

So, whether you're already familiar with the services and staff at the Wyandotte Savings Office nearest you... or you'd like to get to know us... do join us for coffee and refreshments this Friday. Let's celebrate the bright promise of our next year together.

License applications mailed

Area automobile and motorcycle owners can expect their 1974 license tab prepared applications in the mail any day now.

According to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, the Department of State currently is in the process of mailing more than 4.5 million prepared applications to passenger car owners.

Michigan will again use the sticker-tab system for 1974. The blue and white reflectorized sticker will be affixed to the lower right hand corner of the 1973 license plate.

"Although the new registrations won't actually be issued until Nov. 15, those wishing to purchase their stickers early, and by mail, may do so immediately,"

Austin said. "They simply sign and return their prepared application, and their check as soon as they have received the prepared application."

Austin cautioned those purchasing their 1974

registrations by mail to be certain the information on the prepared application is correct, and that the back of the application is signed where indicated.

In the event the prepared application does contain an error, the vehicle owner may simply cross it out and correct it right on the form.

The Secretary of State's license plate by mail program is starting its third year.

Area rep co-sponsors bumper height measure

An area state representative has co-sponsored legislation to prohibit altering the height of a bumper on a motor vehicle.

The bill would make it unlawful to increase or decrease the height of a bumper by more than two inches from the manufacturer's original specifications for the original bumper on the vehicle, according to Rep. William R. Keith (D-Garden City).

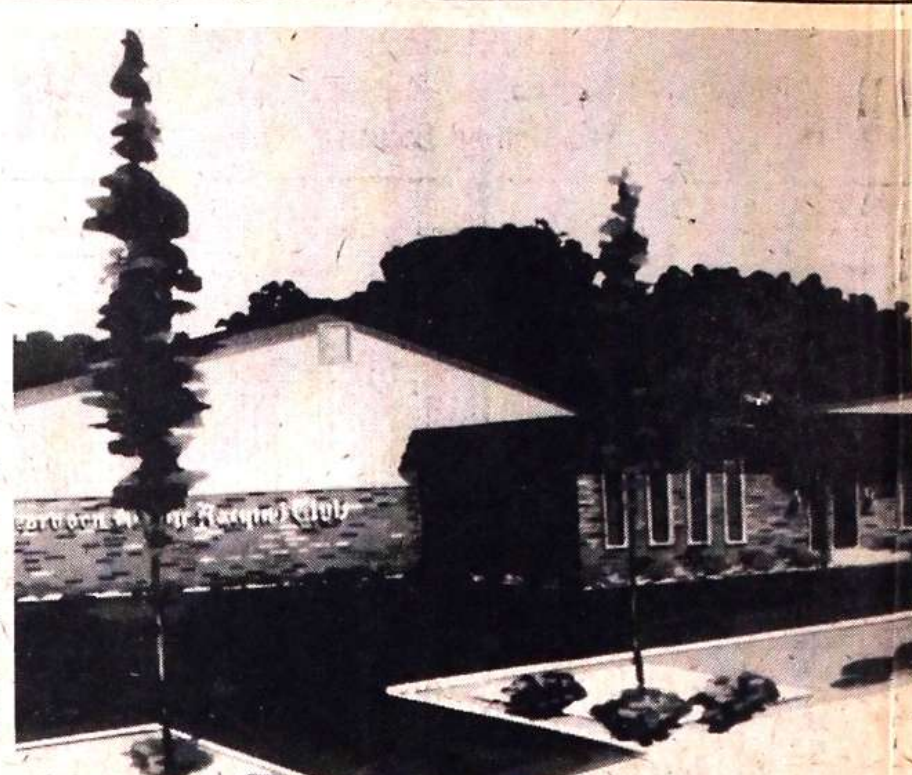

"There is a practice, particularly among young people, of using risers to elevate the rear end of a car," Keith said. "There is nothing wrong with this, except for one thing. It also raises the rear bumper and tends to lower the front bumper. This destroys the purpose of bumpers — to cushion the impact of a collision."

"If bumpers are to be an effective safety feature, there must be uniformity in their height. Realizing this, the manufacturers attempt to achieve as much uniformity as possible. However, as it is now, we have no control over those who raise or lower the height of their bumpers. It is a potentially dangerous situation."

"My bill attempts to correct this."

Keith said the problem of altered bumpers initially was brought to his attention by local police officials.

"They have a good point," he added. "We are particularly conscious today of auto safety features. There are increasing safety demands made of the manufacturers, but we also must recognize that the safety features put into automobiles are useless if they are altered or removed by the owner."

Medicine containers shouldn't be changed

Have you ever wondered why a medicine comes in a particular type of container?

Probably not. But whether it's a prescription or an over-the-counter drug—in tablet, or liquid form—there's a reason for the way it's packaged.

The container helps preserve the drug's strength. Change the container and you could render the medicine ineffective, unsafe—or both.

In "Beware of Substituting Drug Containers," the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) urges consumers to use only the original container of any drug.

While little pill boxes are more attractive, they may not preserve the drug nearly as well as the original container did.

Single, free copies of the two-page fact sheet, "Beware of Substituting Drug Containers," are available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Because many drugs are sensitive to temperatures, moisture, oxygen, and light, manufacturers are required by law to package those likely to deteriorate in ways that will preserve them a reasonable length of time.

The FDA advises that if you absolutely must transfer a drug from the original container, be sure to ask your pharmacist or physician whether the new one is suitable. Then clearly label the new container so that you'll know what the drug is and how often it should be taken.

Here are some other tips from the FDA fact sheet:

—Never transfer a drug to a container that once held a different medicine. The drug could mix with traces of the previous contents, and cause an undesirable effect.

—Always keep the cap of the drug container tightly sealed. Follow carefully any storage instructions on the label. If you have any questions, ask your pharmacist.

—If anything happens to the original prescription vial, or if the plastic top comes loose after several openings and closings, ask your pharmacist for another.

All of these tips apply equally to medicines in liquid, tablet, or capsule form. None should be transferred unnecessarily from the original container.

For scholarships Rep. suggests study group

A resolution has been introduced in the House of Representatives to create a special five-member committee to study grants, loans and scholarships supported by public funds by State Rep. Thomas H. Brown (D-Westland).

"With the increasing intricacies of modern society, it is necessary that the largest number of persons possible be educated through college levels," Brown said. "Public funding provides grants, loans and scholarships to eligible students in order to carry out this concept."

"This study is simply to determine how well this is being carried out and whether or not there need to be some changes in the method of disbursing funds, or a need for additional funds. It is not meant to infer that there is anything amiss with the manner in which the funds are being utilized."

Brown, a member of the House Education Committee, said the special committee would be appointed by the speaker to function and during the interim between the 1973 and 1974 regular sessions of the legislature. The committee will report its findings in 1974 to the legislature.

DATSUN SAVES

About a gallon of gasoline a day

With the demand for fuel rising faster than the supply, here's one way to help ease our energy crisis.

According to the latest U.S. Bureau of Highway Figures, the national average for gas mileage is about 12.5 miles per gallon. The new Datsun 1200 gets around 30 miles per gallon or over twice the national average. The average car in the U.S. is driven just over 10,000 miles a year, so you can save about a gallon of gas every day by driving a 1200. With gasoline prices going up, it's a considerable saving of another important resource: your money. Drive a Datsun...then decide.

SPECIALS OF THE WEEK

EXECUTIVE SPECIAL, 37052 NORENE
A fine offering is this three bedroom brick ranch, (4th bedroom and 1/2 bath in basement), carpeting, two car garage, vacant. This is a most desirable property situated in a status neighborhood near Glenwood and Newburgh. $29,900, 5 percent down.

REALTY FACTS
DETROIT'S OLDEST BRICK HOME
Restoration has almost been completed on the home at 1460 East Jefferson, making it very much like it must have been when Christopher Morross built it 130 years ago. It is expected that the home will be open to the public on a limited tour basis after May. The Morross House was not a mansion; it was designed for people of modest means in a time when Detroit's population was 10,000 and Jefferson was a narrow muddy road.

RANCH BARGAIN!
Super clean three bedroom home with basement in Westland. Complete with built-ins. Be the first to see this and you will want to buy at only $22,900, low down payment!

VAN BUREN TWP.
A three bedroom brick ranch that is absolutely a doll house with beautiful decor throughout and plus carpeting, has a farm kitchen and basement. Low down payment or assumption available.

FOUR BEDROOMS
Older type home north of Michigan near Elizabeth on quiet street which ends at River Rouge. Has dining room, solid oak trim, basement. Vacant, needs decorating and some work but has great potential at only $20,000.

WAYNE $18,900
This compact two bedroom home is an excellent section just off Michigan Ave. corner lot 60x137 with two car garage, low down payment or take over 7 percent mortgage.
